Cari Lettori

Quando si tratta di ricezione satellitare libera per qualsiasi cittadino, la Cina è rimasta per lungo tempo l'ultimo territorio non servito. Ma anche qui, le cose stanno per cambiare quest'anno. La ricezione satellitare individuale diventerà possibile con l'introduzione della DTH in Cina, che significa anche che la tecnologia della ricezione satellitare attingerà ad un immenso mercato di consumo. Comunque la Cina ha deciso di lanciare il suo proprio standard digitale: ABS-S. Potete leggere di più sui suoi aspetti tecnici nel racconto delle caratteristiche in questo numero.

Ciò significa che la varietà di standard digitali è ancora in crescita. Ricordo molto bene la discussione animata che avemmo in TELE-satellite molti anni fa, quando la televisione satellitare digitale in MPEG-2 apparve all'orizzonte. Molti di noi temevano che nel futuro ci sarebbe stata una sola varietà di ricevitori, poiché sarebbero stati o digitali, oppure no. Ragazzi, come ci sbagliavamo! Se osservate la diversità della tecnologia digitale, essa supera di gran lunga qualsiasi cosa che ci potevamo sognare nell'era analogica.

Allo stesso tempo è emerso che standard differenti possono essere integrati in un singolo prodotto. Per esempio, ci aspettiamo giustificatamente che i nostri splendenti ricevitori HDTV con DVB-S2 possano facilmente gestire le trasmissioni regolari in DVB-S. Così probabilmente non ci vorrà molto perché il nuovo standard cinese ABS-S sarà integrato anche nei ricevitori DVB-S/S2. Tenetevi semplicemente pronti perché la confezione dei ricevitori sarà più decorata con ancora più loghi, marchi di fabbrica ed etichette rispetto ad oggi.

Il vantaggio maggiore dell'ABS-S è che si tratta di uno sviluppo molto recente, che significa che funziona in modo più efficiente rispetto al DVB-S. Questo è il lusso di essere pazienti e saper aspettare. La tecnologia progredisce in continuazione e nella maggior parte dei casi un nuovo standard significa un passo avanti. Ad ogni modo, sarà interessante osservare se e come ABS-S prenderà piede nei mercati al di fuori della Cina. Per certi versi, questo dipenderà dalla politica delle licenze per l'ABS-S, ma principalmente verrà definito dai produttori cinesi che saranno in grado di ridurre ulteriormente i costi, ora che hanno l'immenso mercato cinese proprio di fronte alla loro porta. L'ABS-S potrebbe rivelarsi un rivale per il DVB-S2, che arriva anch'esso con la promessa di ridurre i costi grazie alla sua richiesta inferiore di larghezza di banda.

Il lancio del DTH in Cina allo stesso tempo apre il mercato cinese a tutte le altre aziende satellitari - sebbene la maggior parte degli attori siano già localizzati in Cina. Ciò che è certo è che l'industria satellitare guadagnerà uno slancio addizionale, che di per sé è una buona notizia all'interno della flessione economica attuale. Tutto sembra mostrare che c'è sempre spazio per l'espansione – dovete solo offrire il prodotto giusto al momento giusto per il mercato giusto.

Il vostro,
Alexander Wiese

P.S.: Il mio canale radio preferito questo mese è Peppermint FM, una nuova stazione dalla Germania su Astra 19,2° Est (12.633 H) con grande varietà di musica non-stop, nessun notiziario e solo occasionalmente un po'di autopromozione con lo slogan della stazione 'Tieniti fresco e giovane.'

Maintenance for your satellite installations

Heinz Koppitz

New receivers are always impressive with their promises of user-friendliness, ample editing options or blind scan. HDMI and more aspect settings may improve video output while a USB interface speeds up software updates and may even allow storing video streams on external media. Still, a perfectly running system does not require a new set-top box every other year. After all, most satellites are increasing their transmission power with every new generation of orbital birds and this means that even a slightly outdated system will work perfectly in most conditions. What is much more important is regular maintenance and exchanging faulty components so that viewing pleasure is guaranteed even in bad weather.

Exchanging the LNB

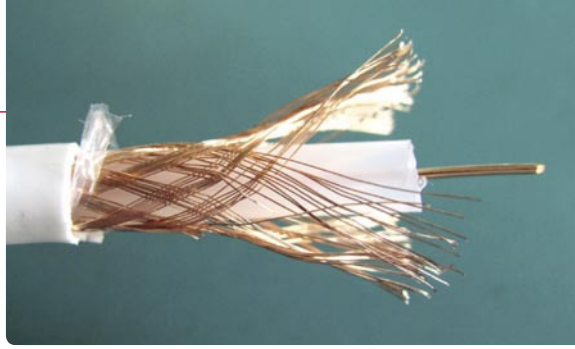
Many receptions systems were set up back in the analog age, some even at a time when only the lower band of the Ku band was being used. Do you already have a universal LNB? If not, you should rush to the store and get one right away – you'll be surprised how many additional transponders you'll be able to receive all of a sudden.

LNBs are subjected to the elements and their performance suffers if moisture cannot be kept outside. But even if your old LNB is still fine it's well worth getting a modern universal LNB with a low noise figure (0.3 dB), which will improve the threshold of your system in any case.



Single screening cable

Exchanging the coax cables

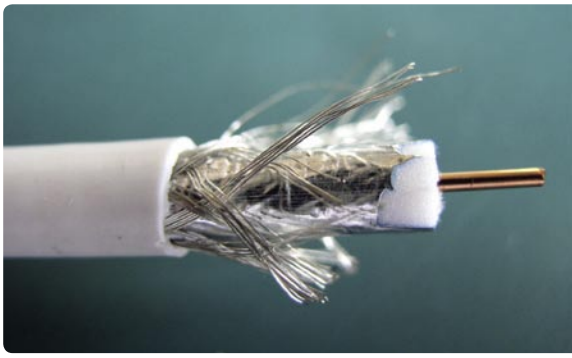
Old cables can be cracked, squeezed or otherwise damaged, which in most cases leads to problems that are hard to identify. There was a time when most coax cables came with only single screening, which is not enough to effectively block out interference from other signal sources. If that is the case we recommend replacing all cables and making sure new cables provide double screening – which comes as standard these days.



Double screening cable

Aligning the satellite antenna

Due to wind and corrosion your antenna may not be in perfect position after a few years. This is why you should look at the exact antenna alignment once a year. When doing this, the reception bar provided by the receiver when searching for signals or – depending on the receiver model – also in the info bar can be helpful for this job, even though this is of little use when the dish is on the rooftop and the receiver down in the living room. You might want to use a small satellite finder instead, which is attached to the antenna cable right at the LNB output and indicates the signal strength.

ABS-S: a competition for DVB-S/S2?

Jacek Pawlowski

When we were reading a press release about the launch of ZhongXing-9 (ChinaSat-9), it looked like something quite routine. It was nothing out of ordinary that China had another DTH satellite in service. It was the coding and modulation this satellite was supposed to use that surprised us. It was neither DVB-S nor DVB-S2. It was something brand new: ABS-S (Advanced Broadcast System-Satellite).

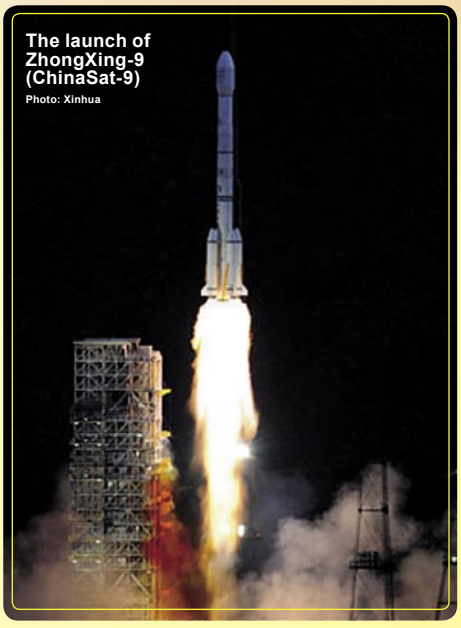
We all know that the standardization is a very useful practice. However, it happens really rarely that one thing is accepted all over the world. For example analog TV had always a few standards in different regions of the world (PAL, NTCS, SECAM, D2-MAC). Digital TV is no exception. Of course, our readers are very familiar with DVB-S and DVB-S2 standards but these are not the only ones in use. There is also the DSS (DirectTV) in North and South Americas and ISDB-S in Japan. They are similar to DVB but not identical. A receiver capable of receiving one standard is useless for the other. And now, China decided to establish the forth standard: ABS-S.



The launch of ZhongXing-9 (ChinaSat-9)

ZX 9 (Chinasat 9)

Why create yet another standard? One obvious reason is evading the expensive license fees. For example, every receiver manufacturer has to pay a royalty to MPEG organization for every unit sold. Taking into account the population of China, the amount of money involved is huge. We are speaking of 400 million households! China administration started a program called "Every Village" aimed at making digital satellite TV available to a large percentage of country population. This means that a receivers must be really cheap.

It all started back in June 2002 when the Chinese AVS standard has been published. AVS stands for Audio Video coding Standard. AVS compared to MPEG has some advantages. It has twice or three times the coding efficiency of the traditional MPEG-2 - so it is closer to H.264 (popularly called MPEG-4). However, the complexity of algorithms is lower than that of H.264. Thanks to that AVS requires less memory and occupies lower bandwidth. While H.264 is the video encoding standard only, the AVS deals with video, audio and media right management altogether. So it is a complete industry system for coding the source data.

ABS-S goes one step further. Similarly to DVB-S2 which is based on H.264 and MPEG-2, the ABS-S is based on AVS standard. ABS-S has bandwidth efficiency similar to that of DVB-S2 (ca. 30% more data can be sent compared with DVB-S in the same transmission channel). DVB-S2 efficiency is already close to the theoretical limit (Shannon limit) and apparently so is ABS-S. At the same time ABS-S is regarded as simpler from the technical point of view. This gives a better chance that a higher number of IC manufacturers can master this technology in relatively short time. DVB-S2 and H.264 are rather complex and not too many IC manufacturers offer compatible chips.

For example, ABS-S does not use BCH code, it can seamlessly combine fixed-rate modulation (CCM), variable bit-rate modulation (VCM) and adaptive coding modulation (ACM). It uses forward error coding where it is difficult to implement LDPC (low density parity check) and depending on application one can use different rate in 4 modulation modes: QPSK, 8PSK, 16APSK, 32APSK. There are more differences between ABS-S and DVB-S2 but they are all understandable only for the high-tech professionals.

At the moment, we do not have a credible independent assessment of the new standard. Will it be really almost as good as DVB-S2 while being cheaper and simpler to use and as Chinese sources claim? When we have such opportunity, we will perform such a test for you.

It can be interesting to watch what the world IC maker will do. Will they ignore the new standard and let the Chinese manufacturers monopolize the China market, or they will fight to offer their own implementation of ABS-S/AVS compatible chips? Will it be possible to create a universal chip suitable for both standards: DVB-S2 and ABS-S?

Dizipia DS4H-9160
Più grande e migliore

Non avrà un nome accattivante, ma il DS4H-9160 del produttore Coreano Dizipia si impone per il suo aspetto e la dimensione. Il ricevitore, racchiuso in un case nero lucido, è più grande delle maggior parte, con una larghezza di 43cm, profondità 28cm e 6cm di altezza, e l'alloggiamento in solido metallo significa che è anche abbastanza pesante. Lo splendente pannello frontale contiene un chiaro e bel display per l'informazione del canale.

Anche il telecomando è più grande del normale, misurando 24x5cm. Questo può essere programmato per comandare una TV in aggiunta al ricevitore, e questo è stato veloce e semplice da impostare per la mia TV utilizzando i codici in fondo al manuale. Per una volta non c'è stato bisogno di setacciare internet per codici addizionali per farlo funzionare! Il telecomando è disposto chiaramente e i pulsanti hanno un click definito quando vengono premuti, ma allo stesso tempo non richiedono troppa pressione per fornire il comando, come succede con molti altri di questo tipo. A complemento del rassicurante click di ciascun pulsante, il pulsante STB o quello TV lampeggia quando un pulsante viene premuto.

Un'altra notevole caratteristica del pannello frontale è un inusuale griglia di piccole luci rosse. Ad una prima occhiata appaiono come semplici indicatori, ed attraverso questi si possono controllare la maggior parte delle principali funzioni. Il pannello frontale è completato da due slot CI ed una porta USB sotto lo sportello posto sulla destra.

Sul retro abbiamo praticamente tutte le opzioni di collegamento che ci potrebbero servire. L'input di antenna, per ciascuno dei due sintonizzatori, possiede un output passante corrispondente, ed il primo sintonizzatore può essere collegato al secondo se è disponibili solamente un cascata d'antenna. Un piccolo cavo passante è incluso nella confezione a questo scopo. L'HDMI e l'S/PDIF sono disponibili per il video e l'audio digitali, assieme alle due più tradizionali Scart, video component e composito e audio stereo RCA. Accanto c'è un'altra presa USB, come anche un ingresso RS232 e pure una porta Ethernet, sebbene non ci siano informazioni sul manuale che spieghino come questa venga utilizzata.

Impostazione

Effettuare i collegamenti del ricevitore è reso agevole da alcuni semplici diagrammi d'aiuto presenti sul manuale. L'immagine di ogni presa è riportata con le spiegazioni per tutte le sue opzioni. Ogni punto importante che potrebbe causare confusione è chiarito: se viene utilizzata una sola antenna in corrispondenza del cavo passante, il cambio canale durante la registrazione è limitato soltanto ai canali sullo stesso trasponder. I due input per LNB possono essere impostati su satelliti diversi, così c'è anche l'opzione di due antenne fisse indipendenti, anche questa limiterebbe quello che può essere visto e registrato allo stesso tempo.

La prima volta che lo accendiamo, andiamo diritti al wizard di installazione dove troviamo l'ora locale, il fuso orario e le lingue preferite. Qui sono presenti opzioni limitate per la lingua – per il menu su schermo ed i messaggi sono disponibili solamente inglese, tedesco e russo. Stranamente, la lista delle lingue di default per l'audio ed i sottotitoli è differente. Qui la scelta è tra inglese, tedesco o francese.

Poi si passa alla schermata della ricerca dei canali, dove vengono impostati i nostri satelliti scelti e analizzati per la prima volta. Sono supportate antenne motorizzate DiSEqC ed USALS. È un lavoro facile dire al ricevitore la sua posizione per latitudine e longitudine, così che possa calcolare la posizione dei satelliti che desiderate ricevere.

La lista dei satelliti preprogrammata nel ricevitore è molto imponente – ce ne sono circa 170! Vi sfido a trovarne uno che non sia già presente, ma nel caso, oppure un nuovo satellite appaia nei cieli in futuro, i satelliti si possono editare, aggiungere e rimuovere come necessario. Anche le frequenze dei transponder dei satelliti appaiono piacevolmente aggiornate.

La stessa scansione dei canali è piacevole e veloce, con una completa scansione su ASTRA 2 conclusa in soli otto minuti. Una volta che i canali sono in memoria, è presente una buona selezione di funzioni che consentono ulteriori modifiche e ordinamenti.

Si accede alla lista completa dei canali premendo semplicemente il pulsante "OK" mentre si guarda la TV. La lista può essere rapidamente ordinata alfabeticamente, per stato codificato/FTA, oppure lasciata nel suo stato originale di ordinamento per numero del canale. Un tocco piacevole è la funzione di "zoom", con cui la lista dei canali può passare dal riempire l'intero schermo o solamente una parte del lato sinistro, così che l'immagine TV può essere vista nel contempo.

Da qui si può anche accedere a tutte le funzioni di modifica ed organizzazione, il che risulta più semplice che non dover andare su un menu dedicato alla modifica. I canali possono essere spostati su e giù nella lista come richiesto. Secondo la necessità è possibile anche impostare delle liste di favoriti, ed è pure semplice riempirle e modificarle.

Per chi ha dei bambini, esistono due opzioni per il parental control – la tradizionale richiesta di una password oppure la possibilità di nascondere completamente certi canali fintantoché la password non venga inserita. In aggiunta a ciò, potete limitare i canali visibili ad una sola lista di favoriti, oppure impostare un intervallo di tempo dopo il quale il ricevitore si spenga automaticamente – per impedire ai bimbi di sedere tutto il giorno davanti alla televisione! Esiste un'opzione finale per limitare i programmi consentiti per livello di età, sebbene ciò dipenda completamente dal fatto che l'emittente trasmetta l'informazione della corretta classificazione per età.

Funzioni del disco fisso

Dal momento che le emittenti in HD utilizzano molti dati ed è essenziale un trasferimento delle informazioni ad alta velocità, viene utilizzata nel ricevitore un'interfaccia SATA al posto della tradizionale IDE. Il nostro modello di test era sfortunatamente fornito senza un drive installato internamente, e ciò mi ha dato alla fine una scusa per testare in modo completo il collegamento di un disco rigido attraverso la porta USB.

Non ero molto fiducioso, ma anche un drive USB piuttosto vecchio, collegato alla porta USB posteriore, mi ha smentito funzionando quasi senza problemi, compresa la registrazione di canali HD. Ci sono state tuttavia alcune volte in cui l'immagine è andata un po' a scatti, come ci si poteva aspettare. Ma è stata possibile anche la visione di un canale HD con la registrazione di un altro sul drive USB, se non perfetto al 100%.

I drive esterni usano il file system standard FAT32, così che l'archiviazione ed il recupero su un computer è semplice e diretto. Il file manager sul ricevitore risulterà di facile navigazione per chiunque è abituato all'uso dei computer, con la struttura famigliare di file e cartelle ed anche il ".." per risalire alla directory superiore.

Una funzione di cancellazione automatica può essere utilizzata per rimuovere le registrazioni più vecchie quando lo spazio finisce. Con questo tipo di sistema, la perdita indesiderata di una registrazione importante è sempre una preoccupazione. Per fortuna esiste un'utile funzione per proteggere singole registrazioni, così che non vengano cancellate accidentalmente o con la funzione di auto-cancellazione. Viene anche fornito il parental control delle registrazioni attraverso la protezione con password.

È anche disponibile il timeshift durante la visione live della TV. Tutto ciò che serve è la pressione del pulsante pausa, dopo di che si rendono disponibili gli usuali controlli per il riavvolgimento e l'avanzamento veloce. Una gradita funzione extra divide il programma registrato in segmenti come i capitoli di un DVD, rendendo la navigazione più semplice rispetto al dover veleggiare attraverso un lungo programma differito. La quantità di tempo impostato di default per la registrazione temporanea è di 30 minuti, ma lo si può modificare nelle impostazioni fino ad un massimo di due ore.

Una fonte di disappunto potrebbe essere la mancanza di qualsiasi funzione di modifica. È sempre utile avere qualche funzione di modifica, anche di base, per eliminare la pubblicità dalle registrazioni ed è un peccato che non ci siano previsioni sulla realizzazione di qualcosa del genere. Come appassionato di sport, ho sentito la mancanza anche di una riproduzione al rallentatore, che spesso utilizzo.

Uso quotidiano

La navigazione tra i satelliti, i canali ed i menu del ricevitore è abbastanza semplice, sebbene forse non sufficientemente intuitivo come in altri ricevitori che abbiamo visto. Per esempio, anche dopo un bel po' di tempo di utilizzo del ricevitore sono confuso dalla presenza di un pulsante "back" che in realtà non riporta indietro i menu al livello precedente! Neppure il pulsante "menu" lo fa come mi sarei aspettato. Invece lo fa il pulsante "exit", per lo meno qualche volta – in altre occasioni fa quello che dice ed esce completamente dal menu di sistema.

La qualità dell'immagine è un grosso risultato per i ricevitori HD e per fortuna la qualità HD fornita dal Dizipia mantiene le aspettative. Anche le immagini con definizione standard vengono sottoposte all'upscaling quando riprodotte in risoluzione HD ed anche ciò aggiunge un piccolo extra di qualità all'immagine, confrontata a quella RGB della Scart.

C'è un comodissimo pulsante dedicato sul telecomando per cambiare rapidamente la risoluzione. In associazione a ciò troviamo un'idea presa dal mondo dei computer. Dopo il cambio della risoluzione, appare un box sullo schermo che vi chiede di confermare che possiate vedere l'immagine. Il default è "no", così che se vi risulta un'immagine inguardabile, premete semplicemente il pulsante OK e ritornate alla risoluzione precedente. Sono disponibili entrambe le modalità progressivo e interlacciato, che vanno da 480 a 1080 linee.

Le trasmissioni widescreen sono comuni ai giorni nostri ed è il caso di vedere se qui tutte le opzioni sono soddisfatte. Per vedere le trasmissioni widescreen su uno schermo 4:3, sono disponibili le modalità letterbox e pan/scan. Viceversa, una trasmissione 4:3 su uno schermo 16:9 può essere lasciato invariato, con le barre nere ai lati, oppure ingrandito secondo le esigenze. C'è anche un pulsate speciale sul telecomando per questo, per passare tra le modalità 16:9 e 4:3.

Ho avuto delle difficoltà per far funzionare l'EPG, molto probabilmente a causa del fatto che essa richiede un disco fisso per memorizzare sopra i dati. Assumendo che questa funzionerà correttamente in un modello di produzione, questa contiene tutte le funzioni usuali che ci aspettiamo e di cui abbiamo bisogno. I programmi futuri possono essere impostati per essere registrati, o solo guardati. Come per la lista dei canali, il pulsante blu può essere utilizzato per zoomare il display dell'EPG tra lo schermo intero

Menu impostazione TV

o solamente una parte di esso. I programmi impostati per essere registrai possono avere associato un parental control per l'orario di prenotazione. È disponibile anche la modalità di timer tradizionale per la registrazione.

Il surfing quotidiano tra i canali è veloce, e grazie alla buona implementazione del widescreen, abbastanza indolore. Una volta ordinati secondo l'ordine desiderato, oppure all'interno delle liste di favoriti, la navigazione tra i canali è abbastanza semplice. Finalmente il pulsante "back" trova qui un utilizzo, una pressione veloce ci riporta all'ultimo canale visto. È disponibile il teletext integrato, e pulsanti dedicati sul telecomando danno accesso ai sottotitoli e le tracce audio addizionali.

C'è una funzione insolita per gli utilizzatori dei sistemi di pay-TV. Come al solito, se viene registrato un programma codificato, è necessaria una carta valida per guardare la registrazione in un secondo tempo. Comunque, esiste una funzione speciale di "decodifica". In un momento di vostra scelta, per esempio mentre state dormendo, il ricevitore si metterà al lavoro sul file memorizzato e rimuoverà la codifica. Naturalmente per decodificare l'immagine è ancora necessaria una carta valida per la visione.

Dal momento che esistono due porte USB, è semplice collegarne una ad un disco fisso, come ho fatto io, oltre ad accedere ad altri supporti USB attraverso l'altra. Si possono riprodurre file audio MP3, e le immagini appaiono splendide su un grande schermo HD.

Complessivamente

Questo è un ricevitore competente con molte opzioni di collegamento e possibilità potenti. Comunque, dopo averlo utilizzato per un po', si comincia ad avere la sensazione come se fosse un'auto sportiva con un limitatore di velocità nel motore, in quanto il software al suo interno non è sviluppato completamente come dovrebbe. La navigazione all'interno dei menu è a volte un po' stancante, poiché non appaiono intuitivi come quelli di altri PVR disponibili.

Comunque, dal lato degli aspetti positivi, resa ottima dell'immagine, facilità di dimensionamento dell'immagine e forma con pulsanti dedicati e slot CI, dovrebbero renderlo molto bene un PVR per tutti i giorni.

La TV ad Alta Definizione ha iniziato da tempo la sua passerella trionfante, ma se date un'occhiata alle statistiche di www.SatcoDX.com vedrete una realtà deludente: HOTBIRD a 13° Est, ad esempio, ha un totale di 29 canali HDTV rispetto ai 1355 canali SDTV in PAL. Vi sono numerose motivazioni per spiegare questo fatto, ma si tratta prevalentemente di ragioni finanziarie; la banda costa denaro e le emittenti che già offrono un servizio SDTV spesso propongono l'HDTV come servizio aggiuntivo. Per l'utente finale tutto questo significa che, pur possedendo un moderno TV a schermo piatto, deve continuare a guardare canali SDTV che, su schermi molto grandi, non offrono una grande qualità video.

Questo problema è stato affrontato dal produttore Sudcoreano Topfield che ha predisposto una soluzione molto intelligente con il suo nuovo TF6000PVR ES. Esso è molto simile al TF6000PVRE a parte una caratteristica fondamentale: l'upscaler.

L'upscaler elabora il segnale in ingresso e ne incrementa la risoluzione interpolando i pixel mancanti in modo tale che non si manifestino scalettature, un difetto altrimenti inevitabile con un semplice aumento di risoluzione. Volevamo sottoporre questo ricevitore ad una prova completa per esaminare il funzionamento pratico di questo componente.

Non appena aperta la confezione abbiamo notato come il TF6000PVR ES non fosse grande quanto ci aspettavamo. Mentre il predecessore TF6000PVRE si presentava con una larghezza standard di 43 cm, il nuovo TF6000PVR ES misura solamente 38 cm. Ma questa dimensione ridotta non ne compromette l'eleganza.

Al centro del pannello frontale è situato un leggibilissimo display VFD alfanumerico; accanto ad esso i tre pulsanti per utilizzare il ricevitore qualora il telecomando dovesse sparire. I quattro tasti per controllare il volume e cambiare canale sono disposti a forma di cerchio argentato. Questi, insieme al pulsante di Standby illuminato di blu, attirano davvero l'attenzione.

Sotto uno sportellino sulla parte destra si trovano due slot CI per la ricezione PayTV. Essi possono accettare tutti i moduli più comuni come Irdeto, Viaccess, Seca, Conax, Nagravision o Cryptoworks e funzionano tutti insieme senza problemi. Come era lecito attendersi, il pannello posteriore del TF6000PVR ES brilla per la varietà di possibili collegamenti. Oltre agli ingressi IF dei due tuner con relative uscite passanti, troverete anche un'uscita HDMI, due prese Scart, tre spinotti RCA per le uscite video ed audio stereo, un'uscita S-Video, un'uscita audio digitale ottica, una presa USB 2.0 ed infine l'interfaccia Ethernet. Pur non venendo più molto utilizzata di questi tempi, è ugualmente disponibile anche l'interfaccia RS-232 per il collegamento ad un PC.

Il telecomando fornito si impugna piacevolmente ed è correttamente etichettato con tutti i pulsanti facilmente raggiungibili. Analogamente a quella del ricevitore stesso, ne abbiamo apprezzato anche la qualità costruttiva. Il manuale d'uso, come ci si può aspettare da Topfield, è scritto molto chiaramente, con sufficienti illustrazioni dove necessario e tutte le risposte alle domande che potrebbero sorgere per utilizzare rapidamente il ricevitore in modo semplice.

Uso Quotidiano

Quando lo si accende per la prima volta, il nuovo apparecchio Topfield inizia mostrando il menù principale e quindi richiede all'utente di configurarlo secondo le proprie necessità, ad esempio in base alla tipologia di impianto, prima di poterlo utilizzare. Non è quindi presente un assistente all'installazione, ma non è affatto necessario in quanto la struttura dei menù del Topfield è organizzata logicamente in modo tale che anche un principiante riesca a trovare la strada giusta.

Il primo passo è selezionare la lingua per l'OSD nelle impostazioni di sistema. Al riguardo il TF6000PVR ES dispone di un'ampia scelta: Tedesco, Inglese, Francese, Spagnolo, Arabo, Greco, Turco, Danese, Svedese, Norvegese, Olandese, Il menù principale del TF6000PVR ES è organizzato in modo piacevole.

Polacco, Persiano, Finlandese, Ceco e Bulgaro. Una volta scelta la lingua, l'utente può spostarsi nelle singole voci di menù.

Come ogni altro ricevitore satellitare, il TF6000PVR ES può anche regolare automaticamente l'ora via satellite. A differenza della maggior parte dei concorrenti, Topfield offre numerose diverse possibilità di impostazione. Ad esempio, l'origine dell'ora può essere limitata ai canali codificati o a specifici transponder. Purtroppo, questa funzione si rende necessaria se consideriamo che molte emittenti fuori dalle principali posizioni DTH non forniscono l'ora esatta sui propri canali finendo per confondere il ricevitore con informazioni errate. Con la semplice pressione di un tasto si può anche passare dall'ora solare all'ora legale e viceversa: non dovrete più preoccuparvi della differenza di fuso da GMT. Naturalmente, data e ora si possono sempre impostare anche manualmente. Il TF6000PVR ES gestisce un orologio interno che mantiene l'ora esatta anche nel caso di assenza di corrente e quindi, a differenza di altri ricevitori, è in grado di far partire le registrazioni programmate con il timer anche dopo un black-out.

Grazie all'upscaler integrato, il TF6000PVR ES è l'apparecchio ideale da utilizzare con moderne TV a schermo piatto. Possiede un'uscita HDMI integrata sulla quale il ricevitore può convertire qualsiasi segnale video a 576p, 720p o 1080i. Per rendere tutto ancora più semplice, l'utente può effettuare queste regolazioni mediante un pulsante dedicato sul telecomando senza dover prima navigare attraverso varie pagine di menù.

Se però volete comunque collegare il vostro nuovo Topfield alla TV mediante presa Scart, avete a disposizione i formati RGB, CVBS, S-Video o YUV. L'immagine può essere mostrata in 4:3 o 16:9. Sono disponibili anche speciali modalità per mostrare i contenuti in 4:3 su schermi 16:9. PAL e NTSC vengono riconosciuti e la commutazione avviene in automatico cosicché la ricezione di canali USA in Europa o viceversa non è affatto un problema. Mediante l'upscaler integrato è anche possibile regolare le dimensioni dell'immagine di +/- 20% in modo che essa si adatti perfettamente a qualsiasi TV venga utilizzata.

Una volta sistemate le varie regolazioni, il ricevitore deve essere adattato all'impianto di antenna esistente. Ai due tuner possono essere forniti due segnali separati – questa sarebbe la configurazione ideale – oppure possono condividere lo stesso cavo di ingresso. Quest'ultima variante impone restrizioni significative su un tuner mentre si registra un programma dall'altro. Questi limiti vengono superati se si possono utilizzare due segnali completamente indipendenti.

Il nuovo Topfield è fornito con un elenco preprogrammato di 156 satelliti europei, asiatici ed americani. Le posizioni satellitari più comuni sono molto aggiornate, mentre una rinfrescata generale alle altre non sarebbe una cattiva idea.

Abbiamo particolarmente apprezzato i numerosi diversi parametri impostabili che possono naturalmente essere regolati per ciascun satellite. Diversi valori per la frequenza dell'oscillatore locale (OL) sono già preprogrammati, ma, se necessario, è possibile immettere manualmente frequenze particolari. Questo permette di utilizzare con questo ricevitore anche LNB non standard. Tutti i protocolli DiSEqC esistenti sono gestiti per poter ricevere quante più posizioni satellitari possibili. Il DiSEqC 1.0 consente di ricevere fino a quattro satelliti, l'1.1 può essere utilizzato su antenne multi-fuoco con fino a 16 LNB, mentre l'1.2 e 1.3 (USALS) servono per il controllo di antenne motorizzate.

Una volta sistemati questi parametri, il passo successivo è quello di riempire la memoria del ricevitore che può contenere fino a 5000 canali (3500 TV, 1500 Radio). Questo può avvenire non solo con una ricerca manuale, ma, naturalmente, anche con la ricerca automatica e con l'aiuto dei dati dei transponder preprogrammati. E' presente anche una ricerca estesa con immissione manuale dei PID. Come per le altre tipologie, la ricerca per rete può essere limitata ai canali in chiaro oppure a quelli codificati.

La velocità di ricerca canali di questo ricevitore è impressionante: sono stati necessari solo quattro minuti per esaminare il nostro satellite di prova con oltre 100 transponder. Non dimenticate però che il TF6000PVR ES non è un ricevitore HDTV e quindi non può ricevere alcun segnale DVB-S2 o MPEG4/H.264. Il ricevitore prende però i normali segnali SDTV e ne incrementa la risoluzione per ottenere una migliore qualità di immagine sui moderni TV LCD o al plasma.

Dopo aver terminato la ricerca su una delle principali piattaforme DTH, è assai probabile che l'elenco canali sia pieno di centinaia di canali ai quali l'utente non è affatto interessato, ad esempio perché codificati e quindi non ricevibili. Per questo motivo è molto importante poter modificare l'elenco canali ed adattarlo alle proprie preferenze. Da anni Topfield mostra al mondo come si effettua questa operazione ed il TF6000PVR ES non fa eccezione. I canali possono essere facilmente cancellati, rinominati, spostati o protetti con un PIN per evitare che i bambini vadano a curiosare su programmi non adatti a loro. L'intero elenco può essere ordinato automaticamente secondo diversi criteri ed i canali più seguiti si possono copiare in un numero illimitato di elenchi di Preferiti per poterli rapidamente ritrovare con la semplice pressione di un tasto del telecomando.

Completate le varie regolazioni e la ricerca canali, l'utente può abbandonare il menù principale ed il ricevitore passerà al primo canale ricevibile in elenco. Insieme alle sue immagini, appare temporaneamente anche una barra Info che fornisce informazioni su quel particolare canale con i suoi parametri tecnici e funzioni extra presenti (audio DD, sottotitoli, teletext, codifica, ecc.) oltre alla descrizione del programma in corso, ammesso innanzitutto che questi dati siano trasmessi dall'emittente. La stessa barra Info appare anche quando si cambia canale.

La pressione del tasto Info sul telecomando mostra informazioni estese sul programma in corso, mentre il tasto Guida visualizza un'anteprima dei prossimi programmi, con relativa descrizione dettagliata, per la settimana seguente. Nuovamente, questo è possibile a condizione che l'emittente metta a disposizione questi dati. Vi sono due diverse modalità di visualizzazione tra le quali l'utente può scegliere. Particolarmente comoda è la possibilità di programmare le registrazioni del timer direttamente dall'EPG. Non occorre fare altro che premere un tasto per contrassegnare un programma per la sua registrazione.

Il dettagliato elenco canali del Topfield può essere richiamato premendo il tasto OK. Numerose modalità di ordinamento e di ricerca vi consentono di trovare rapidamente il canale che desiderate. Se necessario, l'utente può scegliere quale tuner utilizzare per ricevere il canale prescelto, oppure questa decisione può essere lasciata al ricevitore. Quest'ultima possibilità è sicuramente la scelta migliore quando è in corso una registrazione. Il tempo di cambio canale è piuttosto buono e, anche quando i due canali non sono sullo stesso transponder, non supera mai il secondo.

I tuner montati sul Topfield hanno un'eccellente sensibilità di ingresso e non presentano problemi con i segnali più deboli come quelli di ASTRA 2D a 28,2° Est o di NILESAT a 7° Ovest. Siamo rimasti anche soddisfatti della capacità di gestione SCPC: sono stati agganciati e visualizzati senza disturbi canali a partire da 1.0 Ms/sec. Dal nostro laboratorio non sono passati molti ricevitori in grado di trattare il difficile canale RSP su EUTELSAT SESAT a 36° Est con un symbolrate di soli 1.0 Ms/sec.

Vi sono poi numerose altre funzioni aggiuntive che completano perfettamente l'immagine generale del TF6000PVR ES. Ne fanno parte, naturalmente, le numerose possibilità del timer programmabile (sono disponibili frequenze settimanali, giornaliere, solo giorni lavorativi o solo weekend), l'incredibile facilità d'uso del ricevitore, il decoder teletext ottimamente funzionante e tutti i numerosi altri extra che sono a disposizione.

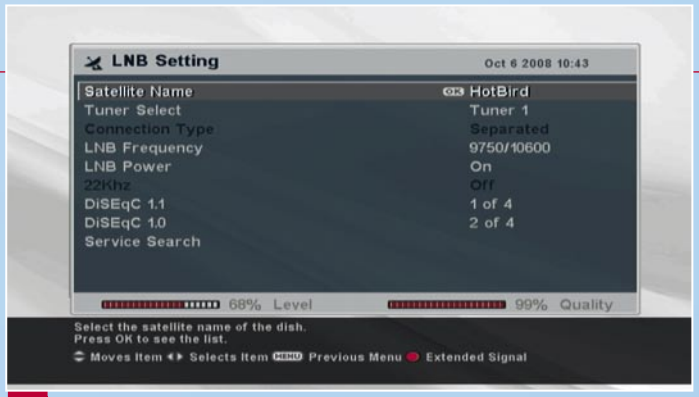
La funzione PVR è sicuramente in cima all'elenco. Il ricevitore può registrare due canali contemporaneamente sul disco fisso integrato per poi riprodurli senza alcun degrado di qualità. Grazie alla funzione time shift (visione differita) è possibile mettere in pausa il programma in corso qualora dovesse esservi un'interruzione come una chiamata telefonica. Il programma potrà poi riprendere da dove era rimasto una volta finita l'interruzione. Anche la funzione segnalibro è molto pratica. Premendo un tasto durante la registrazione si può marcare un punto specifico per poterlo rapidamente ritrovare in seguito.

Le interfacce di rete e USB 2.0 sul pannello posteriore consentono di collegarsi ad un PC Windows. Le registrazioni possono essere trasferite al PC mediante queste due interfacce e da qui, ad esempio, essere masterizzate su DVD. Naturalmente i dati possono anche essere trasferiti nella direzione opposta trasformando il TF6000PVR ES in un juke-box MP3 semplicemente copiando i file sul ricevitore.

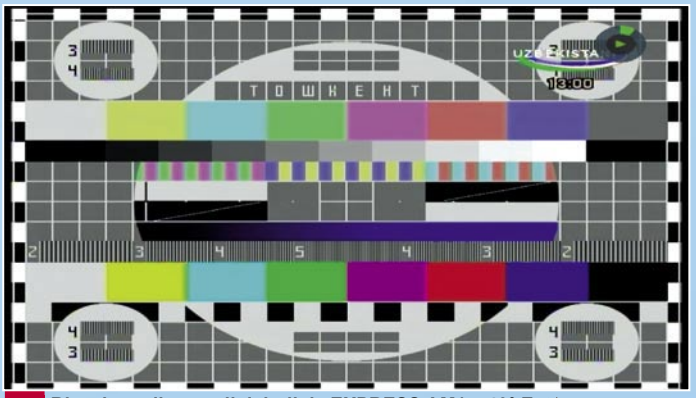
Tramite l'interfaccia di rete sono a disposizione server Web e FTP attraverso i quali gestire le registrazioni sul disco fisso. Anche gli eventi del timer si possono configurare via PC. Purtroppo, la velocità di trasferimento dati sull'interfaccia di rete non supera 1 MB/sec. Questo può far allungare di molto il tempo di scaricamento per le registrazioni più lunghe. La configurazione della connessione di rete può essere demandata al modem/router DSL in quanto il TF6000PVR ES supporta il protocollo DHCP.

Anche la funzione picture-in-picture del ricevitore è molto comoda. Essa consente, ad esempio, di passare ad un altro canale o ad un programma registrato in precedenza quando sul canale principale, che rimane visibile in una finestrella, vanno in onda gli spot pubblicitari. Terminata l'interruzione, con la pressione di un singolo tasto si ritorna alla normale visione del canale principale.

Una delle ragioni per le quali i ricevitori Topfield hanno così successo è l'interfaccia gratuita TAP che consente agli utenti di caricare nel ricevitori estensioni software realizzate in casa. Il TF6000PVR ES non è diverso. Grazie alle somiglianze hardware con il TF6000PVRE, quasi tutte le TAP disponibili dovrebbero funzionare anche nel nuovo TF6000PVR ES. Abbiamo provato una diffusissima TAP EPG ed abbiamo scoperto che funziona alla perfezione in questo ricevitore complementando la già eccellente EPG Topfield con una serie di funzioni aggiuntive come la raccolta automatica dei dati EPG ad un'ora predeterminata per fare in modo che questi siano sempre a disposizione dell'utente in ogni momento.



Impostazioni LNB



Ricezione di segnali deboli da EXPRESS AM1 a 40° Est

Topfield è costantemente al lavoro nel migliorare i propri ricevitori e quindi offre numerosi metodi per caricare un aggiornamento software. Questo può avvenire via satellite, via Internet tramite l'interfaccia di rete oppure i file necessari possono essere scaricati dal sito Topfield su un PC e da qui trasferiti al ricevitore tramite interfaccia USB.

Infine, abbiamo alcuni commenti riguardo l'upscaler integrato. Occorre chiarire che questo non può assolutamente trasformare un debole segnale con un bassissimo data-rate in una brillante immagine HD. Sarebbe chiedergli troppo. Può però migliorare l'immagine in modo che ciò che vedete su una TV LCD o al plasma abbia una qualità corrispondente a ciò che otterreste su un normale TV a tubo da 80 cm. Altri canali che trasmettono in SD con data-rate più alto possono essere elaborati dall'upscaler Topfield per produrre un'immagine visibilmente migliorata che all'utente finale apparirà quasi in qualità HD.

montaggio che ci permette di avere un'antenna montata e funzionante in non più di 30 minuti. E ciò comprendeva anche gli scatti di tutte le fotografie per questo articolo!

I singoli componenti vantano una qualità molto alta: sono completamente galvanizzati, così che la nuova antenna Venus non è solo veloce da montare, ma offre anche anni di funzionamento affidabile.

■ Tutto è finito – ora la ricezione deve essere misurata.

■ Grande – il misuratore mostra una ricezione perfetta.

Abbiamo testato l'antenna da 2,1 metri (7 piedi) che verrà venduta principalmente in Indonesia. A causa della vicinanza del paese all'equatore, sono necessari angoli di elevazione molto alti, ed è per questo che l'antenna è montata alla fine del palo. Con un angolo di elevazione vicino ai 90°, necessario nella regione, nessun altro tipo di progetto di montaggio funzionerebbe.

L'antenna forata di PT Subur Semesta è prodotta quasi completamente in modo automatico, solo il 15 percento del totale processo di produzione richiede un'opera manuale. Ciò assicura che la qualità rimanga costante e che i singoli pannelli abbiano una forma esattamente parabolica. Paragonata ad un'antenna solida, questa risulta essere sullo stesso piano. Tra l'altro, la nuova antenna forata arriva praticamente con le stesse fasce di supporto e gli stessi binari del feed delle antenne piene prodotte da PT Subur Semesta.

La misura di 7 piedi è stata scelta da PT Subur Semesta per una ragione: in alcune regioni dell'Indonesia un'antenna di 6 piedi semplicemente è inutile, mentre nove piedi sono un po' troppi per la maggior parte del paese. Di conseguenza sette piedi è la misura perfetta per l'Indonesia. Siamo stati comunque informati da PT Subur Semesta che questo è solamente l'inizio. L'azienda vuole inizialmente prendere piede nel mercato nazionale, prima di cominciare ad anche offrire linee di antenne di altre misure per il mercato internazionale.

Come tutte le confezioni da PT Subur Semesta, anche questa antenna arriva con la livella ad acqua brevettata da Venus. Grazie al suo magnete integrato, può essere semplicemente attaccata alla posizione orizzontale o verticale dei supporti di montaggio e la scala vi mostrerà l'angolo corretto. Ciò scaccia l'orrore di regolare con precisione la posizione dell'antenna.

Abbiamo usato un LNB assemblato 2-in-1 per i nostri test di ricezione. Anche questo supporto, o anche quello 4-in-1 per quattro LNB in banda C, è disponibile presso PT Subur Semesta. Questi supporti per LNB sono ideali per le condizioni indonesiane, dal momento che permettono la ricezione dei segnali da diverse posizioni con una singola antenna. Le opzioni disponibili sono: PALAPA C2 (113,0E) e TELKOM 1 (108,0E), o ASIASAT 3S (105,5E) e ASIASAT 2 (100,5E), oppure tutte e quattro allo stesso tempo.

Dopo solo pochi minuti di allineamento eravamo in grado di ricevere la TV satellitare con questa nuova antenna. Il nuovo sistema di antenna forata di PT Subur Semesta è una soluzione innovativa per la produzione di pannelli d'antenna con alta qualità costantemente. Tutto ciò è completato con assemblaggio veloce e facilità di trasporto.

One of the biggest names in the industry when it comes to multiswitches would undoubtedly have to be SPAUN. The company was founded back in October of 1969 and began by manufacturing OEM terrestrial antenna products. In 1991 they began distributing products under their own name and shortly after that introduced the first multiswitch with an integrated power supply. Since then they have continuously added to their product line such that today their product range consists of more than 300 products.

Recently, SPAUN ventured into a new arena by beginning to offer amplifier and multiswitch products for use exclusively with the DirecTV satellite PayTV system in the USA. DirecTV itself came into existence back in 1990 and launched their satellite TV service in June of 1994. The idea of watching TV via satellite instead of through a cable TV service provider became so popular that in just a little over a year, they reached one million subscribers.

Just ten years later in 2005 they had 15 million subscribers! In 2007 DirecTV began offering 70 HD channels and today that number has risen to over 130 HD channels.

When you talk to most people about DirecTV, they think of DirecTV as merely a provider of TV services to individual end users such as those in private homes. But the truth is DirecTV also provides service to commercial end users such as hotels and larger apartment buildings. Here the commercial end users want to provide independent satellite TV signals to each hotel room or apartment with all of this being accomplished using a single satellite antenna. Obviously, a standard DirecTV satellite system can't handle this all by itself. That's where SPAUN comes in.

■ (Fig.1) The DirecTV dish setup we used for this test

SPAUN has developed an array of products exclusively for the DirecTV SlimLine dish antenna system (Fig.1) that allows the incoming satellite signals from five different satellites to be distributed to multiple receivers using only the one satellite dish.

The SlimLine LNB (Fig.2) comes with four independent outputs that when used normally allow the end user to connect up to four satellite receivers. But when used with the SPAUN components, 16 and more receivers can be connected.If you take a close look at the SlimLine LNB, you might say to yourself: "I only see three LNB's". And, yes, that's exactly what it looks like from the outside. On the inside however, much more is going on.

The LNB on the right is actually three LNB's in one that together with the other two add up to five. Then you might be asking yourself how it can be possible to switch between five different satellites and at the same time give all the connected receivers access to these satellites independent of each other.

The answer again lies in the SlimLine LNB. A typical LNB converts the incoming satellite signals to the 950 to 2150 MHz range and sends these signals via the coax cable to the receiver.

The SlimLine LNB does this and more. A portion of the incoming satellite signals are converted to the 250 to 750 MHz range. Through a variety of switching functions within the LNB, the 250 to 750 MHz range and the 950 to 2150 MHz range are both made available at each of the four outputs on the SlimLine LNB. The receiver chooses which band and polarization it wants simply by switching between 14 or 18 volts and also whether or not to include a 22 KHz signal along with the proper voltage.

We found the idea of using SPAUN switches in this application very intriguing so we decided to taker a closer look at how all of this works. SPAUN was kind enough to provide us with a number of their components so that we could put them to the test.

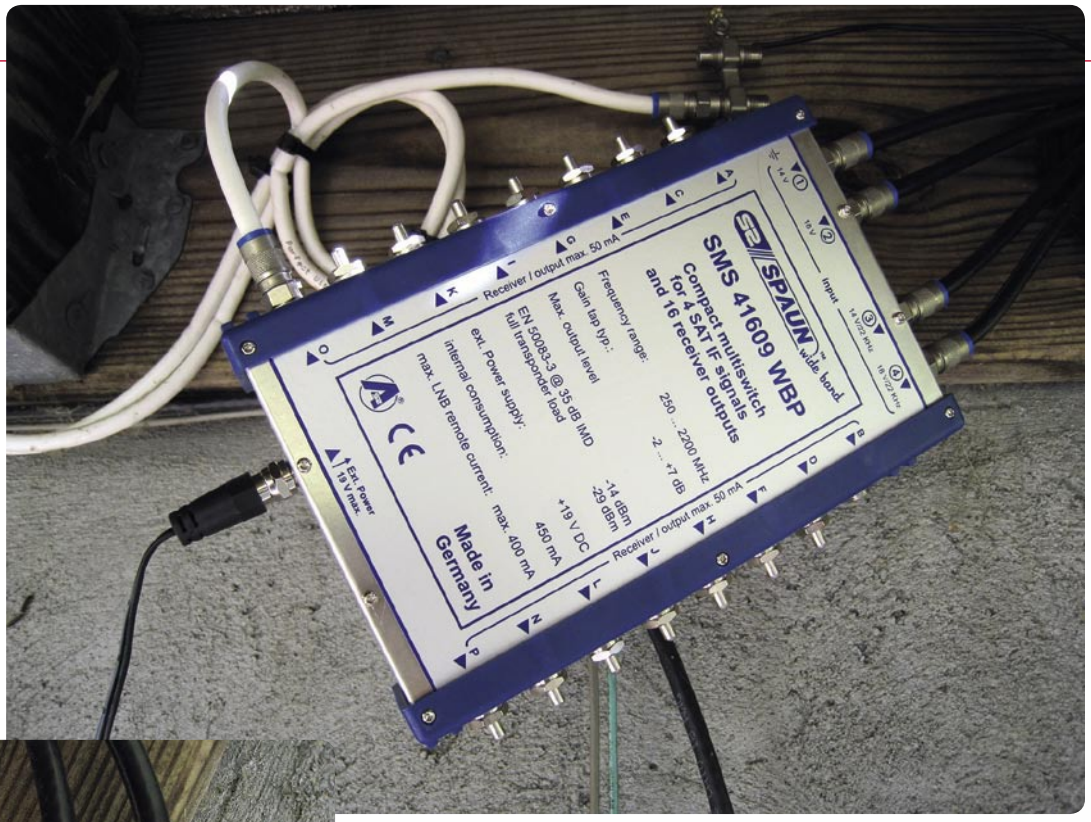
The number of receivers that need to be serviced will dictate what SPAUN components will be used and how many of them will be needed.

The most basic set up will provide outputs for as many as 16 receivers. For example, the four LNB outputs can be connected directly to a SPAUN SMS 41609 WBP switch (Fig.3) without the need for any amplifier components.

This switch already comes with the 16 outputs needed for 16 different receivers. Just plug the included power supply into a wall outlet, connect the other end into the proper jack on the switch and it's ready to go (Fig.4). All of the receivers connected to this switch can independently access all of the satellite signals from the DirecTV antenna as if each receiver were connected to its own antenna.



■ (Fig.4) We removed the 4 black colored coax cables from grounding block and connected them to the SPAUN SMS 41609 WBP. Now we could connect up to 16 receivers.

How does this work? The concept is actually quite simple. The receiver has the ability to send four different control signals (14V, 18V, 14V + 22 KHz and 18V + 22 KHz) via the coax cable to the LNB so that the proper band/polarization is selected. But when the SPAUN components are used in between the receiver and the SlimLine LNB, the sequence of events unfolds with a slight difference. The receiver still sends out the proper control signal depending on the band/polarization it wants to receive but, instead of this finding its way to the receiver, it ends up sent to a SPAUN multiswitch. As far as the receiver is concerned, it thinks it's connected to an LNB.

The SPAUN SMS 41609 WBP multiswitch comes with four satellite signal inputs. Each of these inputs sends its own unique control signal to the SlimLine LNB:

Input 1 – 14V
Input 2 – 18V
Input 3 – 14V + 22 KHz
Input 4 – 18V + 22 KHz

In this way, all of the available satellite IF bands from the SlimLine LNB are delivered to the SMS 41609 WBP multiswitch at the same time. The switch then routes the desired band/polarization to the connected receivers based on the control signals received by the switch from each of the receivers.

As mentioned earlier, one of these bands is the 250 to 750 MHz frequency band. Depending on the DirecTV receiver model, an internal or external BBC (base band converter) module is used to upconvert this frequency band to the standard satellite IF band so that the receiver can access these signals.

If the satellite system to be installed involves the use of more than 16 receivers, then additional multiswitches need to be used.

In some cases, this system must also be capable of handling terrestrial TV signals as well. The SPAUN SMS 41609 WBP multiswitch does not have a terrestrial input so for applications like this the GMS 51609 WBP can be used. Also, now that we are dealing with more than one multiswitch, it becomes necessary to include signal amplifiers and signal taps to the SPAUN set up as well.

For the first part of our test we wanted to set a baseline measurement from which a comparison could be made when the SPAUN components were added. So, before any SPAUN components were put in place, we measured and recorded all the active transponders on the five satellites using the signal strength display that is included in the DirecTV receiver setup menu.

For the second part of our test we used the following SPAUN components:

1xGBK 5500 WBP Wideband Launch Amplifier

1xGTS 525 WB Penta Splitter

1xGZR 5550/15 WB Penta Tap with Directional Coupler

2xGMS 51609 WBP Compact 16-Output Multiswitch

These components were connected to each other as shown in the diagram in Fig.5. The actual connected components can be seen in Fig.6. In the normal setup, the four cables from the SlimLine LNB were routed to a grounding block (Fig.7) at a location outside of the house just before the cables went into the house. This was a convenient point to connect the SPAUN components.

The four IF cables were removed from the grounding block and connected to the four inputs on the SPAUN Launch Amplifier. This particular setup has the capability to provide independent satellite signal outputs for up to 32 receivers.

For the purpose of our tests we opted to measure the outputs at the eight Measuring Points (MP) highlighted in Fig.5. The unused outputs were terminated with 75

Ohm terminations. The MP's were also terminated with 75-Ohm terminations when they were not connected to a receiver.

As with the first part of the test, all the active transponders for the five satellites were measured and recorded for each of the MP's (MP05 to MP12) using the same DirecTV receiver menu display. All of the collected data was organized and tabulated in seven different tables (one for each satellite) so that each MP output could easily be compared with the other outputs as well as with the results of the first part of the test. These results can be seen in Fig.8 thru 14.

Looking closely at each of the tables you can see that the measured signal strengths at MP05 to MP08 compared very nicely to the normal setup. In fact there was very little difference between any of the measurements and in some cases there was no difference at all. And as far as watching TV goes, all of the channels available with the normal setup (SD and HD) were also available at the four MP outputs.

There was, however, some differences between the measured signal strengths at MP09 to MP12 and the normal setup. In this case the measured signal strengths were somewhat lower at these four MP's than those of the normal setup. Although the signal strengths were lower, it did not interfere with any of the available TV channels. All of the available TV channels (SD and HD) could be viewed through any of the four MP outputs.

Conclusion

So, is the number of receiver outputs using these SPAUN components limited to 32? Absolutely not. If you need more than 32 outputs for your specific DirecTV setup, simply add additional SPAUN components! The possibilities are endless. In the end all of the SPAUN components functioned exactly as they should. Does this surprise you?

It shouldn't. SPAUN has been around since 1969 and in that time has built up quite a bit of experience when it comes to manufacturing satellite components. They make quality products that fully live up to expectations.

Arion in Movimento

Più di un anno fa TELE-satellite pubblicò un articolo sul successo del produttore sudcoreano di ricevitori di qualità Arion, con sede a Anyang, uno dei sobborghi meridionali di Seul. Siamo tornati a far loro visita per scoprire come Arion è riuscita a navigare tra i mari in tempesta dello scorso anno e quali sono i progetti di espansione per il 2009.

Abbiamo trovato il responsabile marketing, Sam Chang, in una nuova palazzina non lontana dal vecchio quartier generale della società. Ci racconta ciò che è successo "Ci siamo spostati in questo posto per poter offrire ai nostri dipendenti migliori condizioni di lavoro". Lo staff di Arion è composto attualmente da 80 addetti, 50 dei quali ingegneri occupati nel centro R&S di Anyang, in Corea. "La fabbricazione dei ricevitori Arion ha luogo principalmente nel sud della Cina", spiega Sam Chang.

Il responsabile marketing Joey Lee aggiunge qualche informazione geografica: "Il 30 percento dei nostri prodotti va in India, un altro 30 percento viene consegnato in Sud America ed il restante

Non è ovvio? Un'azienda con così tante parabole sul tetto deve per forza avere a che fare con i ricevitori satellitari. Jeong Woo Lee è uno degli ingegneri di Arion e qui lo vediamo mentre sistema un LNB. Sullo sfondo potete vedere lo skyline di Anyang, uno dei sobborghi meridionali di Seul.

40 percento è distribuito in Europa". Aggiunge Sam Chang: "Il nostro ufficio vendite in Argentina è operativo dall'inizio del 2007" e continua rivelandoci che "nel 2009 abbiamo in piano di continuare a crescere in particolare nell'Europa Occidentale".

Thomas Roh, direttore vendite & marketing, ci fornisce qualche dettaglio sui principali mercati di Arion: "Dal 2006 Arion si è concentrata principalmente sui mercati degli operatori TV in America Latina, India ed altri mercati emergenti stipulando accordi con i principali operatori via cavo e satellite. Ma presto torneremo in Europa, uno dei nostri principali mercati STB, con nuove piattaforme evolute HD come PVR ready su base ST7101 oppure doppio PVR HD su base Broadcom". Ed è qui che Arion fa un passo in più stringendo accordi di collaborazione con varie emittenti via cavo e satellite. E per la gamma di prodotti Arion? "Chiaramente il mercato HD è attualmente in Europa", suggerisce Sam Chang che continua elencando i prodotti che verranno presentati sul mercato europeo nel 2009: "Nel primo trimestre del 2009 abbiamo previsto di lanciare un ricevitore HDTV PVR-ready, che significa con disco fisso esterno da collegare all'apparecchio. Questo sarà seguito nel secondo trimestre da un ricevitore con disco fisso integrato e, per la fine del 2009, potete aspettarvi apparec-

Noi di TELE-satellite, e naturalmente tutti i nostri lettori, non vediamo l'ora di conoscere questi nuovi ricevitori HDTV MPEG-4, anche perché i prodotti Arion si sono sempre rivelati tra i migliori in termini di qualità.

Se preferite incontrare di persona i rappresentanti Arion potete segnarvi due esposizioni alle quali saranno presenti nel 2009: "Avremo uno stand all'ANG e all'IBC", conferma Sam Chang.

Arion è attiva come sempre e restiamo in trepida attesa di vedere i nuovi ricevitori di qualità Arion!

Un ricevitore di qualità deve sottostare ai controlli più stringenti: Eun-Ju Choi è addetta alle prove del reparto qualità e qui la vediamo mentre controlla il comportamento di un nuovo ricevitore Arion nella camera termica.

Milionario in 4 Anni – Forse anche in 3!
SonicView, USA

SonicView si trova ancora in questa zona industriale dove ha affittato due blocchi. "Ma tra pochi mesi ci trasferiremo nella nostra nuova sede", dice Steve Falvey, CFO di SonicView, "qui il magazzino è troppo piccolo per le nostre vendite in forte crescita".

Se nel primo anno di attività riuscite a vendere più ricevitori satellitari di quanti avevate mai immaginato, allora non dovrebbero esservi problemi a raggiungere il primo milione in quattro anni – chi lo sa, forse anche in tre! SonicView, con sede in California, è stata fondata solo alla fine del 2006. Bobby Sanz ne ha rilevato la proprietà nell'estate 2007 e da allora le vendite sono salite vertiginosamente. E' una storia di successo che Tony Lively, Responsabile Vendite di SonicView, doveva spiegarci più dettagliatamente.

Nell'estate 2007 Bobby Sanz acquistò la neonata società SonicView. Questo è il momento in cui iniziano i fatti. Spiega Tony: "SonicView era una società che si occupava di ricevitori satellitari scontrandosi con alcuni grandi nomi del mercato nordamericano. La società era partita con tre soli impiegati. All'inizio era una piccola attività. Con una linea prodotti superiore e la conoscenza del mercato nordamericano, Bobby acquisì i diritti di distribuzione esclusiva americana e mondiale di un produttore di ricevitori coreano".

Bobby mise insieme una squadra di professionisti di primo piano per far crescere la sua azienda. Steve Falvey, che lavorava come Vice Presidente per una grande banca americano, salì a bordo. Dopo essere andato in pensione assunse il ruolo di CFO di SonicView e da allora segue le operazioni quotidiane. La decisione di entrare a far parte di SonicView fu in effetti molto facile: Bobby Sanz è suo figlio.

L'esperienza di Steve come manager bancario spalancò a SonicView le porte del credito e le consentì di avviare il business dei ricevitori in grande stile. Nel 2008 le vendite di SonicView sono raddoppiate da quando Bobby ha acquisito la società. Le previsioni per il 2009 sono già state riviste al rialzo rispetto a quelle iniziali.

Ma da dove proviene tutto questo ottimismo? "Il mercato FTA in Nord America è ancora agli inizi", spiega Tony, "i numerosi immigrati che vivono qui solo ora si stanno rendendo conto che possono vedere la TV di casa loro via satellite e gratuitamente". I ricevitori satellitari di SonicView sono stati concepiti proprio per questo mercato.

"C'è poi un secondo mercato di spettatori che fino ad oggi hanno pagato per vedere la TV, ma che stanno lentamente scoprendo l'esistenza di numerosi canali gratuiti che possono essere ricevuti". Con l'attuale crisi economica molti si stanno chiedendo perché devono regalare denaro ad un'emittente Pay-TV.

SonicView si sta aprendo un terzo mercato espandendosi in Sud America. "Questo è un mercato grande ed inesplorato", è convinto Tony, "lo chiamiamo 'lo spazio bianco'".

La professionalità di SonicView si può vedere molto facilmente: innanzitutto qualsiasi problema di spedizione o trasporto viene affrontato prima di cercare i rivenditori locali. "Riduciamo il nostro rischio in quanto solitamente spediamo solo fino al confine; di tutto il resto si occupano i nostri partner locali". Crimine e corruzione sono cose dalle quali un'azienda come SonicView deve tenersi a distanza. Continua Tony: "Richiediamo sempre il pagamento in anticipo per mantenere il nostro rischio al minimo".

Uno sguardo al catalogo dei prodotti ci dimostra che qui opera una mano esperta. I ricevitori sono configurati esattamente per il mercato. C'è il modello di classe superiore HD8000 per la ricezione HDTV via satellite e terreste, poi abbiamo il modello SV360 Elite, presentato di recente da TELE-satellite, con doppio tuner via satellite e l'SV360 in versione singolo tuner.

Quando SonicView parteciperà al CES di Las Vegas, nel Gennaio 2009, vi saranno tre nuovi ricevitori da mostrare al mondo: una versione HDTV dell'SV360 con uno o due tuner ed una versione leggera per il mercato Sudamericano con tuner singolo e modulatore UHF al posto dell'uscita HDMI.

Tony ci fornisce un resoconto delle vendite: "Vendiamo all'incirca lo stesso numero di ciascuno dei tre modelli; in altre parole, il 30% ciascuno".

SonicView impiaga attualmente 11 persone e spedisce solamente a grossisti. "I nostri clienti sono rappresentati da otto distributori regionali in USA, Canada e Messico", spiega Tony che continua, "questi distributori, a loro volta, consegnano a circa 130 rivenditori".

SonicView ha in programma di ampliare la propria gamma di prodotti. Spiega Tony: "Nel 2008 solo il 10% delle nostre vendite era rappresentata da accessori, ■ Il CFO, Steve Falvey, è un ex banchiere. Steve sa come finanziare un'azienda e come portarla rapidamente verso il vertice.

■ Il Responsabile Vendite di SonicView, Tony Lively, legge il numero di TELE-satellite con la recensione del ricevitore SonicView. "Ho imparato moltissimo da TELE-satellite", rivela Tony, "mi piacciono soprattutto gli articoli dalle diverse nazioni del mondo".

■ La brasiliana d'origine Patricia Moreira Branco è il Consulente Internazionale e sta lavorando per costituire la rete di rivenditori in Sud America.

Ecco il Responsabile del Magazzino Chris Witcomb che spiega: "Uno scatolone contiene cinque ricevitori e 1000 scatoloni riempiono un container per un totale di 5000 ricevitori". Questo è il numero minimo di pezzi che un distributore deve acquistare, ma per molti di loro non è per nulla sufficiente. "Non appena arriva una consegna, viene completamente rispedita il giorno successivo", commenta Chris.

Ken Cherry è Specialista di Controllo Inventario e non solo regola le spedizioni ai distributori, ma gestisce anche tutte le formalità di importazione dalla Corea del Sud. "Il trasporto da oltreoceano impiega circa una settimana, più un giorno per le formalità doganali", spiega Ken.

Il Supporto Tecnico di SonicView è svolto da Dick e Julie Sweeney del Michigan e da Rick Caylor (nella foto) dei dintorni di Kansas City, Missouri. E' lo specialista di SonicView quando vi sono difficoltà tecniche ed aiuta i clienti a risolvere i problemi di ricezione satellitare, in particolare quelli di impianti motorizzati. Riferendosi alle proprie parabole Rick dice: "Ho sei antenne con 13 ricevitori. Un'antenna piena di 3,0 metri, una di 2,5 metri in alluminio, entrambe motorizzate, più una parabola di 90 cm per DirecTV, una di 75 cm per Galaxy 25 e altre due motorizzate di 75 cm.". Rick è un avido cacciatore di feed ed è particolarmente interessato alle corse automobilistiche tanto da gestire anche un forum dedicato ai feed di questo tipo: www.websitetoolbox.com/mb/rickcaylor.

ma prevediamo di aumentare nettamente questa quota nel 2009. Infatti in futuro gli accessori potrebbero raggiungere la metà delle nostre vendite". Questi comprendono multiswitch e cavi HDMI, ma anche LNB e chiavette USB per PVR.

Bobby Sanz ha molti progetti per il futuro ed è perfettamente preparato per gestirli: finanziamenti professionali, prodotti perfettamente pensati per il mercato di destinazione e tempismo ottimale.

Chi lo sa, forse SonicView riuscirà a diventare milionaria in ricevitori in soli tre anni!

HDTV secondo Jiuzhou

Il numero di produttori hi-tech con alle spalle una storia aziendale cinquantenaria è molto limitato. Uno dei pochissimi è Jiuzhou di Sichuan in Cina. Nel 2008 l'azienda ha celebrato il suo cinquantesimo anniversario, come TELE-satellite ha riportato nel numero 03/2008. Le celebrazioni ufficiali hanno avuto luogo il 16 novembre negli uffici della società a Sichuan.

Ora la domanda è: cosa c'è nel magazzino per il 51° anno?

L'edificio di Jiuzhou Electric nella zona industriale high-tech di Nanshan nell'area occidentale di Shenzhen (Cina) è decorato a festa per il 50° anniversario dell'azienda.

The Latest Development in Year 51

La base della distribuzione e ricerca di Jiuzhou si trova a Shenzhen, proprio accanto a Hong Kong, nella Cina del sud. È lì che abbiamo incontrato Huang Wei, direttore delle vendite di Jiuzhou Electric a Shenzhen e della sua sussidiaria Digital Telemedia, che si occupa dei set-top box all'interno del gruppo Jiuzhou. Oltre a ricevitori satellitari, Jiuzhou offre anche ricevitori per TV via cavo, Tv terrestre e IPTV.

"La Tv digitale terrestre DMB-TH è già stata lanciata a Hong Kong e la Cina ha pianificato di introdurla nel 2009," è quanto afferma Huang Wei, prima di passare al campo satellitare: "Nel 2008 circa il 95% dei nostri prodotti era destinato alla definizione standard, ma nel 2009 il segmento dell'alta definizione avrà un sensibile incremento per passare al 20/25 percento."

Jiuzhou ha in magazzino una gamma completa di nuovi modelli per andare incontro alla domanda. Nel numero precedente, TELE-satellite ha già presentato il DTS 6600. Nel frattempo è stato anche lanciato il DTS 6610 con doppio sintonizzatore e sarà a breve testato da TELE-satellite.

"Anche il DTS 6620 è nuovissimo e realizzato appositamente per il provider di Pay-TV francese TNTSAT di Canal Plus," continua Huang Wei, mentre traccia su un tabellone i nuovi modelli e le loro date di lancio. "Nel corso del 2009 presenteremo modelli con integrato Conax, Irdeto per India e Turchia, come anche con NDS." Stiamo realizzando anche un modello IPTV, ma "per il momento la richiesta qui non c'è ancora," rivela Huang Wei, "sebbene France Telecom abbia pubblicato una gara d'appalto."

Per principio, tutti i ricevitori sono PVR, dal momento che un hard disk oppure una memory stick possono essere collegati alla porta USB. "Stiamo sempre più collaborando con i principali fornitori di contenuti e quindi produciamo secondo le loro specifiche," Huang Wei dettaglia la strategia di business di Jiuzhou. Ciò significa che da un punto di vista tecnico, Jiuzhou è in grado di integrare un hard disk come caratteristica di fabbricazione ed offrire in questo modo un PVR completo.

"Qui a Shenzhen abbiamo correntemente circa 250 ingegneri software impiegati ed aggiungiamo da 20 a 30 nuovi lavori ogni anno," afferma Huang Wei orgogliosamente e spiega che in questo modo Jiuzhou è in grado di soddisfare le richieste dalla clientele abbastanza facilmente. "I ricevitori combo, per esempio, non sono assolutamente un problema, ed anche l'audio Dolby può essere integrato, in quanto abbiamo recentemente acquistato la licenza per questo."

L'ABS è uno degli sviluppi più recenti – vedete l'articolo sulle sue caratteristiche in questo numero per maggiori dettagli. ABS è lo standard di trasmissione implementato per le trasmissioni DTH in Cina e potrebbe essere una carta vincente per il mercato cinese. "Stiamo ancora attendendo le specifiche finali, ma il 2009 dovrebbe vedere il lancio dell'ABS," afferma Huang.

Come conseguenza dei progetti di Jiuzhou, il 20 percento dei loro ricevitori saranno modelli ABS. Il 50 percento saranno per la definizione standard ed il 20 percento per l'alta definizione. Huang Wei conclude che "noi produciamo anche il ricevitore 6600 come scheda plug-in per i pannelli LCD." Ciò significa che i prodotti Jiuzhou sono integrati anche in prodotti di altre marche.

Questo significa che ciò è tutto per ora per quanto riguarda i ricevitori satellitari e Jiuzhou? Niente affatto! Il Gruppo Jiuzhou è la sede di un'altra società ancora: Jiuzhou Electronic, che è produttrice di ricevitori satellitari professionali che vengono utilizzati principalmente come ricevitori terminali dai fornitori di TV via cavo. TELE-satellite ha presentato il DVS-2018BS nel numero 11/2007.

l'export Yonchin Shou spiega che il nuovo modello DVS-2018CS è compatibile con l'HDTV. "Ora le compagnie cablate possono includere anche i canali HDTV nelle loro offerte." Anche con moduli CI, se ce ne fosse bisogno.

TELE-satellite sta attualmente lavorando ad un rapporto di test per questo particolare modello. "Il modello corrente è fatto per l'MPEG-2, ma i nostri oltre 200 ingegneri a Sichuan e Pechino stanno già lavorando su un modello MPEG-4," ci dice Yonchin Shou per quanto riguarda i progetti futuri. "Proprio adesso, comunque, la richiesta di ricevitori MPEG-4 è ancora piuttosto limitata."

Anche dopo 50 anni Jiuzhou possiede idee fresche per nuovi modelli. Naturalmente, siamo anche interessati alle strategie di mercato utilizzate da Jiuzhou e ci siamo rivolti a Tang Erman per le risposte. Tang è direttore dell'Overseas Marketing Department del Gruppo Jiuzhou e – quando gli è stato chiesto dove vedesse mercati futuri per i prodotti Jiuzhou – crede che "in Europa e Nord America la richiesta è chiaramente per ricevitori HDTV, mentre l'Asia vuole l'SDTV."

Tang Erman distribuisce le risorse di conseguenza: "Nel 2009 saremo presenti a 12 esibizioni specializzate," ci dice Tang Erman e spiega le differenze rispetto al 2008: "Lo scorso anno avevamo piccoli stand in 19 fiere, nel 2009 il numero di fiere diminuirà per noi, ma aumenterà la dimensione dei nostri stand."

Il direttore delle vendite Yonchin Shou indica il nuovo ricevitore satellitare HDTV professionale sul nuovissimo catalogo CATV (www.jiuzhoutech.com).

Naturalmente Jiuzhou si affida anche ad internet come mezzo pubblicitario. Tang Erman rivela che "il 25 percento del nostro budget di marketing è speso per pubblicità online." Vengono considerati principalmente i siti di B2B Alibaba o Globalsources. "Il 15 percento delle nostre risorse pubblicitarie va in pubblicità su stampa come in TELE-satellite, ed il 60 percento viene speso in fiere specializzate ed esibizioni."

Tang Erman spiega anche perché i soldi vengono distribuiti in questo modo: "Riceviamo molti feedback dalla pubblicità online, ma otteniamo piccoli ordini. La presenza alle fiere è più efficiente in termini di produrre ordini, in quanto lì entriamo in contatto con i distributori all'ingrosso." D'altra parte, la partecipazione alle fiere costa un sacco di soldi e "lo show si conclude solo dopo pochi giorni," Tang Erman si rammarica. E così esiste ancora le pubblicità sulla stampa: "In questo modo siamo pre-

Worldwide Satellite in Northern Holland

The Dutch are known for their love of RV's and naturally want to be able to enjoy satellite reception in their mobile homes. A company that sells and installs the necessary motorized antennas is Worldwide Satellite located in northern Holland, in Purmerend near Edam north of Amsterdam.

Dennis van Leeuwen is one of the co-owners of Worldwide Satellite and immediately sets the record straight: "Today only 30% of our sales are related to mobile satellite system installations." Dennis along with his brother and partner Rob founded the company in 1995. "Back then we operated four video rental stores", explains Dennis and then went on, "but business continued to get worse and worse so we switched our business over to satellite equipment."

It was an obvious move considering that Dennis is an amateur radio enthusiast and was already interested in satellites back in 1989 when ASTRA started. "Only if you have fun with what you do can you be successful", suggests Dennis.

At first the two brothers installed satellite systems only for private end-users but after a few years that changed. Dennis explains: "We began to install satellite systems for sporting events in many of the sports bars in Amsterdam and this makes up about 40% of our sales today."

Installations for professional customers is not only more interesting than those for private end-users, reveals Dennis, "It also is more challenging since in many cases new solutions have to be found." Their professional customers include not only sports bars but also professional programming providers above all in the Hilver-sum region. "We also took part in satellite systems on oil platforms", explains Dennis.

Rob provides us with some insight into the products that are used: "In The Netherlands, multiple satellite reception is in high demand, especially ASTRA at 19.2 east and 28.2 east as well as HOTBIRD at 13 east. The best solution for these satellites is a Multi-LNB dish." Since The Netherlands is covered by strong signals, a 90cm diameter antenna would do the job. "On the professional side, we supply 120cm dishes", comments Rob, "We don't use larger antennas." Since Worldwide Satellite's customers are sophisticated, they only offer quality receivers such as those from Topfield and Arion.

Worldwide Satellite does not have any employees. "We used to use freelance installers", comments Dennis about the past, "but more often than not they were unreliable." Today, during the week Dennis and Rob are out on the road installing satellite systems while on Fridays and Saturdays their store is open for customers. "It can be a lot of work for us", says Dennis, "but it makes us happy."

Microwave Filter Company
Filtri specializzati di qualità
Made in USA

I sistemi satellitari ricevono non soltanto i canali TV, radio e di dati che desiderate veramente, ma anche segnali indesiderati che possono causare interferenze. Come potete liberarvi di questi segnali di interferenza? MFC, un produttore pioniere di filtri satellitari con base negli USA, produce una varietà di filtri che eliminano queste interferenze.

Carl Fahrenkrug è il Presidente e CEO di Microwave Filter Company.

Sempre al telefono coi clienti: Sandy Nelepovitz è Senior Marketing Associate e guida il team delle vendite.

Scott Parsell, Direttore delle Vendite, gestisce la rete dei rappresentanti per le vendite domestiche e internazionali, che cercano in continuazione nuove opportunità per l'azienda.

"L'azienda fu fondata nel 1967, qui nell'Upstate New York", spiega Sandy Nelepovitz, Senior Marketing Associate di MFC, per certi versi il cuore e l'anime dall'azienda. Essendo stata alla MFC per 30 anni, offre rapidamente un po' di storia aziendale, "Glyn Bostick, il fondatore di MFC, iniziò effettivamente l'attività in un garage, producendo filtri per l'uso amatoriale della radio. Nel 1973, ci spostammo nella nostra ubicazione attuale. All'epoca affittavamo solamente una porzione della struttura, condividendola con altre aziende. Nel 1983, poiché gli affari continuavano a crescere, fummo in grado di acquistare l'intera struttura di 3.700 metri quadrati."

Scott Parsell, Direttore delle Vendite, che è alla MFC da almeno 20 anni, prosegue spiegando, "Nonostante la flessione economica e i cambiamenti tecnologici che hanno avuto luogo nell'industria delle telecomunicazioni nel corso degli anni, gli affari di MFC restano solidi – in gran parte per il fatto che noi offriamo una vasta gamma di filtri – che servono, virtualmente, tutti i segmenti del mercato delle telecomunicazioni (Satcom, CATV, Broadcast, Wireless, ecc.). Questa differenziazione di prodotti comporta che il nostro successo non è dipendente dal successo di uno specifico segmento di mercato." In aggiunta, tecniche snelle di produzione, implementate alcuni anni fa, hanno accresciuto l'efficienza della produzione – permettendo a MFC di essere più competitiva.

Che cosa produce esattamente MFC? Scott si rifà ad una delle più popolari linee di prodotto, "La nostra serie di filtri passa-banda per la banda C vengono utilizzati sulle antenne riceventi per la bnda C in tutto il mondo. Questi filtri vengono installati tra l'LNB ed il feed, rimuovendo i segnali indesiderati localizzati sopra o sotto la banda desiderata."

Sebbene questi segnali indesiderati siano fuori banda, il loro livello di potenza è talmente alto, che essenzialmente saturano l'LNB e creano figure di interferenza intermittenti o continue attraverso l'intera banda C. Di conseguenza, i filtri IF di 1° e 2° livello sono inutili e l'unica soluzione è quella di eliminare con un filtro passa-banda sul feed prima della conversione del segnale.

Scott continua, "Noi offriamo filtri passa-banda per banda standard (500 MHz), banda estesa (600 MHz) e banda super-estesa (800 MHz). Offriamo anche filtri calibrati secondo le esigenza del cliente per applicazioni speciali. Così, possiamo fornire il modello giusto di filtro per operazioni in banda C in qualsiasi angolo del mondo."

Quando vi potrebbe occorrere un filtro come questo? Scott ci fornisce qualche esempio, "I segnali degli altimetri che rimbalzano tra i velivoli commerciali e gli aeroporti furono riconosciuti come uno dei primi tipi di interferenze fuori banda per gli operatori in banda C. Comunque, quel tipo di problema è normalmente limitato alle antenne in banda C posizionate vicino agli aeroporti. Subito dopo vennero i segnali radar ad alta potenza utilizzati nella sorveglianza militare (p.e. – gli aerei AWACS) che causarono problemi a moltissime antenne in banda C. Questa sorveglianza aumentò rapidamente dopo gli attacchi del 9/11 e sembrò come se ogni antenna per banda C negli USA ne fosse colpita, assieme a molte altre antenne in tutto il mondo. Come risultato, il radar continua ad essere la causa n°1 delle interferenze per gli operatori in banda C."

"Più recentemente," aggiunge Scott, "è emersa una nuova sorgente di interferenza per la banda C - Wimax". In varie parti del mondo, Wimax opera all'interno della gamma 3,3-3,8 GHz. Questi segnali Wimax possono interrompere la ricezione satellitare in banda C della banda C superestesa (3,4-4,2 GHz) – a causa della banda comune di frequenze che condividono. In questi casi, chi opera in banda C deve installare un filtro passa-banda per banda C per respingere i segnali Wimax indesiderati. Ad ogni modo, dal momento che il filtro respinge i segnali Wimax della stessa frequenza, anche alcuni segnali della banda C più bassa vengono respinti (sacrificati).

Pur tuttavia, gli operatori in banda C preferiscono sacrificare un po' della banda C, se il risultato è buono, con una ricezione pulita della porzione restante della banda C. Poiché Wimax è relativamente nuovo, Scott prevede una richiesta potenzialmente in crescita di filtri da parte di chi opera in banda C per risolvere questo problema in ogni parte del mondo.

Al confronto degli operatori in banda C, gli operatori in banda Ku affrontano molte meno interferenze provenienti da altre sorgenti, dal momento che operano in una banda di frequenza più alta e meno congestionata rispetto all'affollata banda C.

"Nondimeno, i filtri TRF (Transmit Reject Filters) sono necessari in molte applicazioni di ricetrasmissione in banda Ku – dove l'uplink ed il downlink avvengono attraverso la stessa antenna. Il TRF viene montato sulla parte ricevente (10,7-12,75 GHz) del feed per eliminare i forti segnali di trasmissione (13,75-14,5 GHz) che si trovano presenti", spiega Scott.

Mentre MFC produce anche filtri passa-banda per la banda Ku, "la richiesta di filtri per banda Ku è ancora piuttosto bassa", ammette Scott, "dal momento che le operazioni in questa banda di frequenza sono limitate a questo punto."

Sandy Nelepovitz fornisce un ulteriore visione dell'azienda, "La nostra base maggiore di clientela è domestica – dal momento che MFC continua ad essere anche uno dei primi fornitori di filtri CATV per operatori di TV via cavo all'interno degli USA". Sandy continua, "Le vendite di export sono state tra 5% - 7% dal 1992. Comunque, ci aspettiamo che queste vendite aumentino ancora con la crescente domanda di filtri satellitari al di fuori degli USA."

Chiunque può ordinare da MFC, che si tratti di un grande numero di filtri oppure uno solo. "Offriamo anche un garanzia di 30 giorni per la restituzione del denaro sui filtri standard", commenta Sandy, "il cliente deve solo sostenere le spese di spedizione, se quel filtro non è la soluzione." Comunque, dal momento che i clienti conoscono in anticipo quale tipo di filtro gli serve, normalmente non hanno bisogno di utilizzare la garanzia del rimborso.

Naturalmente, cosa accade quando non conoscono quale tipo di filtro scegliere? Sandy spiega, "Il nostro staff addetto alle vendite include tecnici associati che conoscono la maggior parte dei problemi che si presentano ai nostri clienti. Quindi, data l'applicazione, essi possono assistere il cliente nello scegliere il filtro appropriato per quel lavoro." Ma per quei clienti che non sono ancora sicuri se un certo filtro potrà risolvere il loro problema, questa garanzia permette di acquistare e provare semplicemente un filtro standard, evitando così l'alto costo di ingaggio per un consulente che determini la loro soluzione.

Nel corso degli anni MFC si è costruita un'interessante e sofisticata nicchia di mercato nel mondo dei satelliti. Con la loro combinazione di conoscenza e impegno per l'alta qualità, MFC può soddisfare facilmente gli speciali desideri di qualsiasi cliente. Se siete alla ricerca di un modo nuovo per combattere le interferenze, avete trovato la soluzione giusta nella linea di filtri di MFC.

Ruth Arace è Manager delle Risorse Umane e ci fornisce un'occhiata sugli impiegati di MFC: "Abbiamo 6 ingegneri, 36 associati alla produzione e 11 amministrativi."

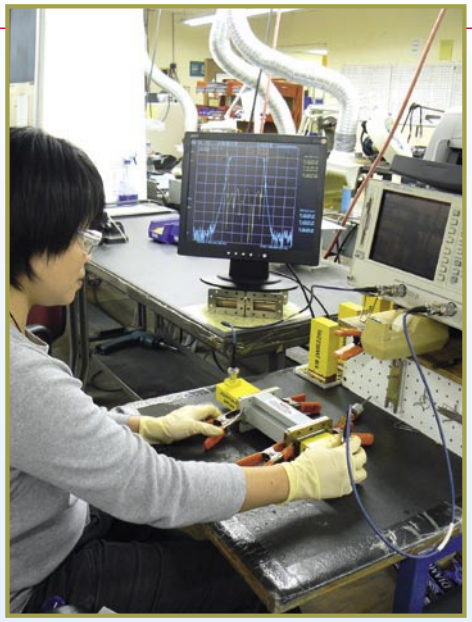
■ Dale Newton ci mostra la sequenza di produzione: da un blocco solido di alluminio (sinistra) il corpo di un filtro completo viene ricavato con la fresa, con tutte le aperture per i collegamenti e le viti (destra).

■ La sonda di ricezione nel filtro viene posizionata da Vertell Brantley. La colla che viene usata deve riposare per tre ore; i filtri sono immagazzinati in questa camera protetta dall'aria circostante. Dopodiché i filtri vengono fissati con una chiusura ermetica a prova di intemperie.



■ È andato tutto bene durante la produzione? Thuy Naylor conduce un test finale per determinare se il filtro è all'altezza delle sue specifiche collegandolo ad una analizzatore di rete per confermarne il funzionamento.

■ Qui un filtro viene assemblato meccanicamente. L'impiegata di MFC Melissa Bench prepara un filtro per il forno di saldatura…

■ Bill Adamo è il Quality Control Group Leader e ci mostra come la chiusura ermetica di un filtro venga testato sotto pressione: "Il filtro viene posizionato qui e pressurizzato con aria a 5 PSI." In questo modo possono verificare se l'interno del connettore, come anche la sua montatura nell'alloggiamento sono resistenti all'aria. "La più piccola fessura può permettere il formarsi dell'umidità a lungo andare e può alterare le caratteristiche del filtro", dice Bill Adamo, "Noi testiamo il 100% dei nostri filtri!" Ogni cliente può essere certo che ogni e qualsiasi filtro MFC è all'altezza delle sue specifiche di alta qualità.

■ MFC fa virtualmente tutto da sé: i filtri completi qui vengono spruzzati con una strato protettivo colorato.

■ …il vero processo di saldatura avviene nel forno di saldatura attraverso cui passano i filtri.

■ Sulla via verso il cliente: i filtri completi e completamente testati vengono imballati e spediti da qui verso i clienti in tutto il mondo.

ABC BIZNIS – Veri Combattenti

Una giovane squadra in crescita verso l'élite del mercato europeo dei ricevitori satellitari con il proprio marchio OPENSAT. ABC BIZNIS è stata fondata solo alla fine del 2004 ed in questo breve tempo è riuscita a diventare un importante fornitore di ricevitori satellitari. Purtroppo, il cammino verso il successo è stato frenato nel 2008 dall'improvvisa scomparsa del fondatore della società. Volevamo scoprire come ABC BIZNIS fosse stata in grado di affrontare questo tragico evento.

Oggi, ABC BIZNIS è un grossista consolidato sul mercato slovacco, offrendo anche antenne, LNB, cavi coassiali e ricevitori. Come costruttore, ABC BIZNIS esporta i propri ricevitori sotto il marchio OPENSAT.

All'inizio del 2007 l'azienda ha avviato la produzione della prima linea di ricevitori commercializzati come OPENSAT. Ha iniziato con una gamma di quattro ricevitori SD ai quali, a metà 2007, si è affiancato il primo ricevitore HD seguito da un secondo modello HD a metà 2008 che è stato presentato da TELE-satellite nel numero scorso.

Ma come hanno affrontato l'improvvisa scomparsa del fondatore? La risposta si trova nella giovanissima squadra messa insieme dal nuovo direttore Veronika Rešetková che racconta ciò che è accaduto: "Dopo la morte di mio figlio Erik, che era il fondatore di ABC BIZNIS, ho rilevato la gestione della sua attività". Veronika enfatizza un punto particolare: "Circolano voci che siamo alla ricerca di un partner o di qualcuno che ci rilevi, ma non ha senso!".

Come prova di ciò, due importanti pilastri la sorreggono nel lavoro quotidiano: da un lato la squadra di 14 persone che sono al 100% in sintonia con la visione aziendale, dall'altro la profonda esperienza che Veronika Rešetková ha acquisito nel suo precedente lavoro di gestione di un'azienda simile nel settore tecnologico.

La sorella minore di Erik, anch'essa di nome Veronika, ci porta agli albori della società: "Fin dall'età di 13 anni Erik dava una mano nell'attività di nostro padre". Anche la sua carriera professionale ebbe inizio nell'azienda paterna, ma dopo una decina d'anni Erik sentì che era il momento di con-

La responsabile acquisti Karolina Štreicherová è in costante contatto con i fornitori.

Chi ordina un ricevitore satellitare dalla ABC BIZNIS entra in contatto con la responsabile vendite Hana Danišová. Parla inglese perfettamente ed offre supporto professionale ai clienti di tutta Europa. Naturalmente è molto orgogliosa del successo dei vari modelli di ABC BIZNIS: "L'OPENSAT X7000 è il nostro prodotto più venduto, il 40 percento degli ordini di ricevitori è per questo particolare modello". Un 25 percento ciascuno è per l'OPENSAT X7000CI e X7700, mentre il restante 10 percento è coperto dall'XT9500HD, un apparecchio HDTV.

Anche un prodotto della migliore qualità a volte può non funzionare. Peter Ciljak è uno dei due tecnici di ABC BIZNIS. Qui sta sostituendo un chipset difettoso su una scheda madre.

cretizzare le proprie idee creando il marchio OPENSAT. Si mise in società con Karolina Štreicherová, oggi responsabile acquisti di ABC BIZNIS, ed un autista e nel 2004 fondò l'azienda ABC BIZNIS.

Grazie alle sue idee creative ed al fatto che queste coincidevano esattamente con ciò che il mercato stava cercando, non gli servì molto tempo per avere successo con i prodotti lanciati sul mercato sotto il marchio OPENSAT. Dapprima consolidò OPENSAT nel mercato locale slovacco, poi nel 2007 cominciò a guardare al mercato estero iniziando da quello ceco. Riuscì velocemente a raggiungere una quota di esportazioni del 40 percento, con la prospettiva per il 2008 di una percentuale del 50 percento di ricevitori OPENSAT diretti all'estero.

Karolina Štreicherová, che fa parte della squadra fin dagli inizi, ci informa sulla ripartizione delle esportazioni del marchio OPENSAT sui vari mercati: "La Repubblica Ceca, nostra vicina, copre la quota più grande dei prodotti OPENSAT arrivando al 50 percento, seguita da Germania e Svizzera con il 20 percento ciascuna e dal resto d'Europa con il 10 percento".

ABC BIZNIS si rivolge attualmente a nazioni come Spagna e Portogallo dove vorrebbe veder crescere la propria quota di mercato e dove è pertanto alla ricerca di distributori partner. "Stiamo anche guardando all'Austria e al Benelux", aggiunge Karolina, "così come alle nazioni nostre vicine Ungheria ed Ucraina dove ci occorrono ulteriori distributori".

un interessante strategia di vendita: "Spediamo i nostri prodotti gratuitamente!". Ciò è possibile grazie ad una flotta di quattro furgoni Mercedes Benz Sprinter di proprietà di ABC BIZNIS che passano la maggior parte del tempo in giro per l'Europa a fare consegne. "Non fissiamo nemmeno una quantità minima da ordinare", aggiunge Veronika, "e quindi possiamo anche consegnare piccoli lotti senza spese aggiuntive". Questo è un importante vantaggio per piccoli rivenditori e distributori in particolare. "Vogliamo dare ai piccoli clienti la possibilità di crescere ed in questo modo noi possiamo crescere insieme a loro", afferma Veronika con convinzione. Il responsabile vendite Hana Danišová ha subito pronte altre buone notizie: "In generale, tutti i nostri prodotti sono coperti da due anni di garanzia!".

Quando leggerete questo articolo saranno sugli scaffali alcuni nuovi modelli. Il direttore vendite Hana Danišová ci elenca le novità: "Abbiamo l'OPENSAT 3000 CR PVR che è un PVR con singolo lettore di smart card. Poi c'è l'OPENSAT 3000 CRCI PVR che ha in più il modulo CI. Entrambi i modelli sono disponibili anche come OPENSAT 3500 HDMI PVR e OPENSAT 3500 CI HDMI PVR che, come la sigla suggerisce, dispongono anche di uscita HDMI".

Anche se, come potete ben immaginare, la scomparsa del fondatore è stata un tragico evento, tutta la squadra intorno a Veronika Rešetková è diventata ancora più coesa. Agiscono tutti di concerto e ciascuno di loro ha il proprio compito specifico in modo che tutte le attività scorrano senza intoppi. Veronika, figlia del nuovo direttore e sorella del fondatore della società, ha una semplice spiegazione per il loro successo: "Sappiamo tutti ciò che Erik voleva raggiungere e lavoriamo verso quell'obiettivo pensando a lui".

Dal 2004 ABC BIZNIS ha avuto uno sviluppo a razzo. Allora il fatturato in Euro era solo lo 0,5 percento del totale, mentre nel 2008 rappresenta il 40,5 percento.

Pronti per una foto di gruppo: le due Veronika (madre al centro, figlia accanto a lei) circondate da quasi tutti gli addetti. L'età media del personale è tra i 30 e i 35 anni.

Manfred Weller set up his shop in the Mar-Ola apartment complex right in the middle of the tourist capital Las Americas in the town of Los Cristianos.

Mennyfix

Obviously, the company name Mennyfix is a play on words: "many fix", the guy who can fix anything. Menny is the nickname for Manfred Weller who moved to Tenerife from Germany 21 years ago and began selling and installing satellite systems.

Manfred Weller, who comes from Cologne/Germany, arrived in Tenerife in the Canary Islands in 1987. He started as a time share salesman: tourists would purchase ownership in a vacation apartment for a certain time each year. But, as an electrician by trade, he soon began to miss working with his hands and in 1989 joined a local satellite company installing dishes. After a few years he decided to go out on his own and in 1994 founded his own company Mennyfix right in the middle of the tourist hotspot Playa Las Americas in southern Tenerife.

Naturally, that was a clever move since on the one hand, long-term tourists wanted to watch their TV from home, and on the other hand digital TV started peaking in 1994. "I imported quite a few D-boxes into Tenerife", remembers Manfred, "Back then BBC Prime still existed and thus our customers were the English." With five employees he installed mostly 100cm antennas: "In our first year it was nearly 2000 systems!" commented Manfred proudly.

But that kind of success did not continue, it didn't take too long to reach the saturation point. This made it necessary for Manfred to look for other types of customers: "Today we install satellite systems mostly for sports bars; this makes up roughly 60% of our sales. The remaining 40% continue to be with private customers."

Manfred, who married a nice English girl, states that 65% of their customers are from Great Britain. "The English are crazy about sports!" And Manfred knows how to deliver their sporting events and from what satellites to get them from. 60% of the satellite antennas his company installs are 1.1 meters in diameter, 30% are 3.0-meter offset dishes for ASTRA 2 reception and 10% are the smaller 60cm antennas for the reception of the Showtime package on NILESAT. "Every soccer game can be seen there", says Manfred. He really loves that programming provider from Dubai.

Manfred is skeptical about the future: "In ten years I believe everything will go through the Internet." He suggests that two-way Internet via satellite will have a chance, "but

Shenzhen Satellites

■ Laoge works on setting up a reception system with three LNBs.

As of now private satellite reception is still illegal in China, but in actual fact you can always find a loophole if only you look hard enough. Satellite installers advertising their services in English and setting up systems for foreigners, for example, don't have much to fear from the authorities.

Laoge shows us a picture of one of his first installations on his laptop computer in a busy Starbucks right at the Dongmen Markets in Shenzhen. One of the Dream receivers he likes to use for AGILA reception is on the table. "The LAN interface is quite important," Laoge whispers with the blink of an eye. Professionals among our readers will know exactly why. ■

Take Laoge, for example. We met him on a busy Saturday at a Starbucks right in the helter skelter of Dongmen Markets in Shenzhen. He has been installing satellite systems for foreigners in Shenzhen since 2006 and tells us how everything started: "It was back in 2006 when I virtually stumbled across the www.tv88.cn website while googling." The site is run by Daxue, one of the heavyweights of the satellite community in southern China. "He taught me everything about satellite reception," Laoge remembers. The two got in touch and soon became friends. One day a Filipino living in Shenzhen approached

■ Thanks to his skills as software engineer Laoge has written a little application for recording the video stream of the Dreambox. He calls it Dreambox Recorder v1.0 and offers it for download at tv88.cn/Soft.

Daxue because he wanted to have a satellite system set up at his home. Daxue hardly speaks any English, however, and forwarded this request to Laoge. "This Filipino became my first customer," Laoge tells us with pride. And his first job was to install a 60 cm antenna for reception of AGILA at 146° East.

Loage was commissioned to set up five more systems in 2006, one year later the number of jobs had risen to 15 and in 2008 Laoge installed a total of 32 antennas. "But it's still only a hobby. I'm a software engineer by profession," Laoge explains and adds that "I charge 2000 RMB (approx. 200 EUR) for each installation – and this includes antenna, LNB and receiver." Where does Laoge source his components? "I buy them at auctions on www.taobao.com," Laoge tells us. Taobao is something like the Chinese version of e-bay.

90 percent of Laoge's customers originally come from the Philippines and most of them live in the Nanshan area of Shenzhen. The AGILA offering, however, includes more than 30 English language channels and therefore might be interesting for foreigners with other nationalities as well. The following satellites can also be received quite easily in Shenzhen: APSTAR 1 at 138° East, APSTAR 2R at 76.5° East and ASIASAT at 122° East.

■ Daxue (left), one of the more known satellite enthusiasts in China, and Laoge (right) meet at a satellite exhibition.

MORE THAN 1500 NEW TRANSPONDER LEASES IN NEXT TEN YEARS

NSR's latest multi-client market research report, the "Global Assessment of Satellite Demand, 5th Edition," projects that the commercial satellite transponder leasing market should emerge relatively unscathed from the current global economic crisis. Between 2007 and 2017, NSR forecasts that global demand for commercial C- and Ku-band transponders will increase by more than 1,500 36 MHz transponder equivalents, and revenues will grow at the average annual rate of 4.5%. NSR anticipates that the majority of transponder demand growth in the coming ten years will be generated by various video services. In fact, 83% of the newly leased transponders will be for video distribution, DTH and video contribution & occasional use television services. On the revenues side of the picture, NSR estimated that the industry generated US$ 8.33 billion in 2007 from commercial C- and Ku-band capacity leasing, and this should grow to US$ 12.90 billion in 2017.

Issue 02/1999

Echostar AD-2000 IP

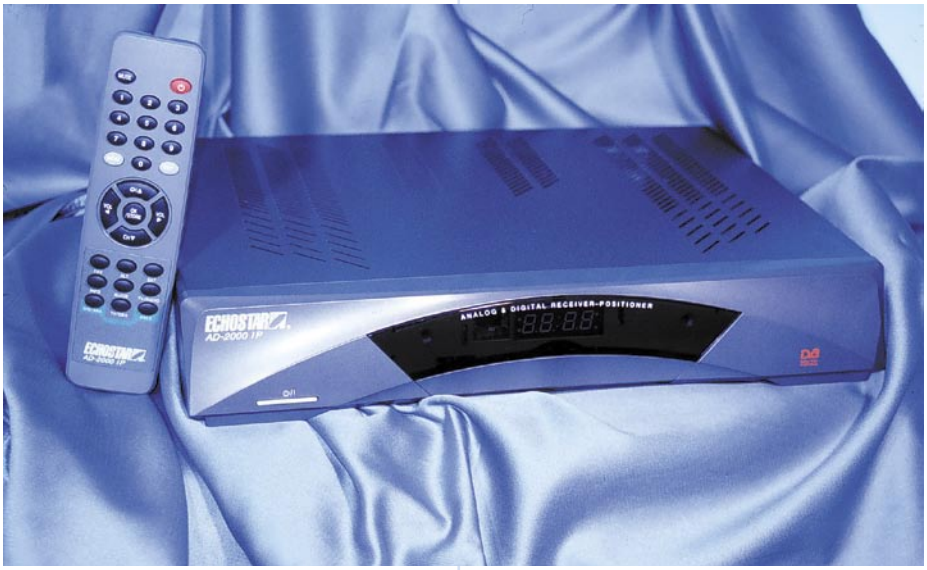
So far, we haven seen a reasonable amount of integrated analogue and digital receivers, one might call them universal receivers, and even with built-in positioners. But although the hardware often is comparable, the software controlling it is the most important issue. Whenever the software is of poor quality you can forget it. The box will crash, you cannot set it up it the way you like, etc. These and many more flaws can make a receiver almost unusable. With this in mind, we started to look at the Echostar AD-2000IP. For over two weeks we have tested it in our labs and it was with a lot of regret that we had to send it back.



Your first impression won't be that it is a superb receiver. It looks a little bit ordinary and does not have the high-tech looks Echostar's famous LT-8700 had. On the contrary, with only a four-digit display on the front you may not expect too much hi-tech in the box. But to start with, the display needs four figures because it can store up to 2.900 digital channels (1.500 for TV/1.400 for radio) plus 700 analogue ones. Its integrated positioner can cope with up to 50 satellite positions. Behind a coverlid there are two buttons for channel up and down and a card slot which may do its job in later versions. The receiver we tested did not have a conditional access interface.

Drake ESR 324 Earth Station Receiver

You don't know the ESR 324? Well, don't panic — it's not like you've missed the latest innovation in digital satellite technology. The ESR is a direct import from the U.S., a kind of 'first cry' of satellite reception technology.
I was actually bargain-hunting for a digital receiver to use in combination with Echostar's DISH digital package when I discovered the ESR in a small country town somewhere in Montana. The unit was built in 1984 and set me back twenty bucks. Of course I knew that I would hardly be able to use this relic with my existing satellite system, but I was simply curious to find out how a 14 year old receiver would handle present-day satellite services.
The first thing you notice about the ESR 324 is its weight.
Used to light-weight plastic boxes the ESR 324's robust metal chassis has survived 14 years of doubtlessly heavy usage without any flaws whatsoever. The 110 volt power unit contributed its share to the total weight of the unit.
All control buttons are on the unit's front panel since there is no remote control available for the ESR 324 (after all, I'm travelling down the time tunnel all the way to 1984). Next to the main power switch there is a scan button and two rotary switches to tune in the selected channel. It is not possible to enter a frequency directly (contrary to European products), neither is there such a thing as a program-store menu. In this respect not much has changed since the 1950s, as a matter of fact. Some may remember the rotary switches on television sets at the onset of the television age: you simple turned the knob into one direction or the other until a channel appeared on the screen. Some budget TV sets in North America still work that way even though Scan Up and Scan Down buttons on the remote control have long replaced rotary switches.

American satellites broadcast their signals according to a standardised channel grid. There are twelve channels each on the vertical and horizontal polarisation plane. Most American satellite receivers still come with a 500 MHz tuner used to scan the C-band between 3.7 and 4.2 GHz and the Ku-band between 11.7 and 12.2 GHz. That way only one control knob on the Drake ESR 324 is enough to use all the bandwidth available on U.S. satellites. The selected transponder is displayed on the front panel and a fine-tuning switch covers all the range between two channels. An additional switch is used to control the mechanic polariser. However a permanent polarisation can also be selected with the polarisation switch.

Once the channel is selected and tuned we have to adjust the audio parameters. With the flip of switch the standard frequency of 6.80 MHz can be selected, while a rotary switch allows the scanning of a range that must extend from 2 to 10 MHz (my estimate). Needless to say that that stereo sound was not a standard feature in 1984. On the back of the unit there is a switch that is used to choose either the C or the Ku band.

MSK 33
Measuring QPSK and QAM

Good measuring equipment can always be recognised by its size and even more by its weight. You will see most professional engineers carrying around a heavy case. But out there, up on the roof, the heavier the tool to perfectly align the dish, the more dangerous it becomes for the one who is doing the job. Carrying around heavy stuff on the roof of a house is not really sensible. The weight of those measuring instruments comes from the built-in cathode ray tube. Although most of the times still in black and white, the power requirements are high, increasing the weight of the batteries. Some use LC displays but most of the time, they also come with tiny buttons and a display that's hardly readable in bright sunshine. The new MSK 33 from Grundig and Kathrein weighs only 6 kg. Not very light-weighted but still a much better weight compared to the competition. It offers on-the-fly measuring and analysing digital signals, printing, LCD display, battery and power adapter. And investing in this measuring tool is a secure investment for the future, since it is built on a modular basis, making it possible to swap certain modules and upgrade to newer technologies. You might, for instance, later replace the MPEG II 4:2:0 board with an MPEG II 4:2:2 board. Many other tools can be thrown away as garbage after a few years, not the MSK 33. It will keep as valuable as it was even when newer technologies come around. The MSK 33 can also be upgraded with a graphic module making it the MSK 33/G, or the MSK 33/Q with a QPSK/QAM module.

Australian Satellite DXer Bevin Boden

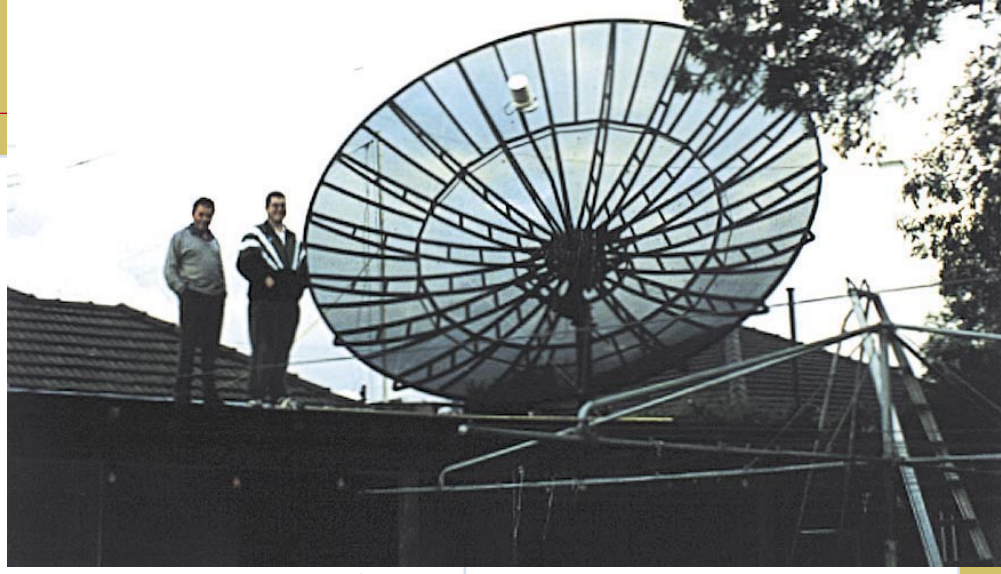
I attended a radio convention at Mt Gambier South Australia about three years ago. A fellow ham had a display of satellite TV on 12 GHz. The analogue receiver was fed by a 1.8 metre solid dish which I learnt later was for sale. Well, for A$300 I made the dish and LNB mine. I was able to buy a Panasat analogue receiver for another A$300, and when the convention was over I put this dish on the roof of the station wagon and headed for Adelaide 300 kilometres north. When I stopped to get petrol I was asked what it was that was strapped to the roof? Standard answer: a large wok as used for making lots of Chinese meals at charity functions. Oh, what a good idea, was the reply. We Australians are odd. I might add I also bought a C band LNB and polarotor as well because I knew I would get a little bored with one satellite and a couple of feeds all my life.



When I arrived home, it was up on the roof to set the dish up and watch a new world out there. News feeds, the odd movie and series transmitted for regional stations to record for later transmission and some sport. This enthusiasm lasted about a week. Time to make a couple of arms and mount up to look at C band. The Indonesian and Chinese stations opened my eyes more than anything and I think any new enthusiast will tell you they get a tingly feeling just looking at all the life being lived by people out there. Your knowledge of the world immediately expands and you become familiar with various time zones around the world.
